Honor society taps Sarah Luann Jordan

Dr. John Decatur Messick, president emeritus of East Carolina University, was saluted by the ECU chapter of Phi Kappa Phi honor society with a tribute and presentation of honorary membership at its annual spring initiation ceremony on campus.

Perquimans County, was among the 28 junior students, 108 senior students and three faculty and staff member initiates.

Honor roll announced

The Rev. R.L. Parker of the Victory Christian School in Elizabeth City recently announced the school's honor roll which includes three students from Perquimans: Tammy Baccus, all A honor roll and Allison Larew, Levin Quinn and Kathy Lindbuckler.

Messick, now 85, and a Wilmington resident, headed the Greenville campus from 1947 to 1960. His accomplishments and contributions were highlighted in an address given by Dr. Robert L. Holt, former ECU vice president and dean, who first joined the ECU administration in 1950.

Messick was given a standing ovation by the gathering as he stepped forward to receive tokens of honorary membership.

Sarah LuAnn Jordan, a senior special education major from Protein is the basic substance of every cell in the body.
