VFW news

Hertford VFW Post 8148 Monthly meeting was held at Jimmy's Barbecue place Wednesday evening, October 19th with a very good attendance.

Vice Commander, D.J. White, conducted the meeting, since Commander Emmett Landing was not present. He reviewed several important programs with the members, including the current program of having flags placed on the graves of Veterans on applicable holidays.

Quartmaster, Joe Perry, reported the Post membership for 1986 was near 100 percent, and two new members, Eddie Barber and Ernest Sutton were admitted to the roster. Also Walter Oakley who has been a member for many years is now a life member of the VFW.

There are several legislations being introduced in Congress that will affect Veterans by eliminating various benefits and decreasing others. Veterans protect these benefits by joining the Local Post and become active VFW members.

Festival of Skills well attended

Enthusiasm and beautiful weather greeted approximately 500 who attended and partici-booths crowded the Albemarle Commission (ARPDC) Building in Hertford with popular handmade items and delicious food.

Many shoppers were delighted to find just the right pillow by Celia Copeland, doorstep by Midge

Stuller, lamshade by Claude Long, and Scherenschnitte by Betty Harrell and Elizabeth

Thach. Other shoppers were thrilled to find unique, one of a kind Armenia needle lace by Emily Harrell, quilts and a variety of items by Memory Lane Senior Citizens. While other shoppers browsed they found plants and handmade items by Belvidere Extension Homemakers, dolls and wreaths by Holiday Island Extension Homemakers, canned and baked foods by Snug Harbor Civic League and Bethel Extension Homemakers, ornaments and miscellaneous items by Gardner Senior Village.

Nancy Madre offered ribbon and crocheted angels, and Nancy Twonsend's lollipops were very unique.

What would a festival be without Cabbage Patch Dolls? They were in abundance by Geneva

Elliott and Midge Stuller. Cornshuck dolls by Emma Burke gave a touch of a home spun heritage craft while Helen Timms' crocheted character dolls were adorable enough for collectors.

These were just a few of the surprises offered by the talented craftsmen which made the Festival of Skills a success.

Many thanks to all who participated and attended. Also, a special thanks to Employees at the ARPDC Building, Deborah Coates and Art Students at Per-quimans County High School, Mayor Bill Cox, merchants who advertised, The Perquimans Weekly, Daily Advance and other media.

fast money IF YOU HEAT WITH OIL...

$35 REBATE

Your oil furnace may be wasting money you'll want later this winter!

Like your family car, your oil furnace needs to be tuned up so that the mixture of air and fuel is right. A car that is not tuned up wastes gasoline, and an oil furnace that is not tuned up costs you more to heat your home.

The U.S. Department of Energy estimates that tuning up an oil furnace will save an average of 10 percent in energy costs and that these savings will pay for the tune-up in a short three months.

And if you act quickly, the State of North Carolina will make it even easier for you to save money this winter.

If you have your oil furnace tuned up before December 31, you will receive a rebate of $35 toward the cost of a tune-up. Act now. Limited offer.

For a full packet of information, including other energy-saving tips, return the coupon below. It makes dollars and sense!

The 15 counties of Northeastern North Carolina have been selected for this special program. Sponsored by the Energy Division North Carolina Department of Commerce
