DOUBLE VISION

If you have ever experienced double vision when you were tired, after taking medication, or after drinking too much, you know how disturbing it can be. Sudden double vision without any apparent cause is very frightening. Regardless of the cause, it indicates that the two eyes are not pointing in the same direction.

In the cases of fatigue or drugs (including alcohol), there is interference with the brain's ability to control and coordinate the muscles. Normally, the symptom will disappear as soon as the cause is alleviated, i.e. rest, cessation of drug intake.

A more serious matter is double vision which occurs suddenly and is present at all times. A possible cause could be a small stroke, hemorrhage, or brain tumor. In most instances, appropriate medical treatment will gradually restore normal vision. In the meantime, as a temporary aid, your optometrist can make special glasses to keep the double vision under control.

Law enforcement training program set

Area men and women who are interested in a career as law enforcement officers will have an opportunity to begin their training through a new certificate program to be initiated in January by College of The Albemarle.

Winslow honored

Two juniors and 138 sophomores at North Carolina State University were honored recently by Gamma Sigma Delta honor society for superior scholarship.

The two juniors, Joel Kirk Budd Jr. and Lillian Rinker, had a perfect 4.0 grade point average through their sophomore year. The 138 sophomores ranked in the upper 25 percent of their class at the end of their freshman year.

Rinker, of 817 Colonial Drive, Burlington, is majoring in chemistry and biochemistry. Budd, of 208 St. Clair Court, Sanford, is majoring in pre-veterinary medicine.

Gamma Sigma Delta is the honor society of agriculture and related sciences.

Among the 138 sophomores honored was Phillip D. Winslow of Hertford, who is majoring in Agronomy.

The college will begin its 17-week Basic Law Enforcement Training (BLET) on Monday, Jan. 27. Students who complete the program will earn 24 quarter hours of college credit.

Floyd P. Horton, COA associate dean of Continuing Education, said a number of pre-admission requirements will have to be met before BLET candidates are accepted. He said it will be necessary for each candidate to obtain the endorsement of either an area police or sheriff's department before applying.

Horton explained that each sponsoring agency will provide vehicles for driver education training and ammunition for firearms practice.

Candidates must not have been convicted of a crime or have a criminal record. Horton said the minimum age must be 20 years old for police candidates, and 21 years old for those who wish to become deputy sheriffs.

ANNIVERSARY PARTY-Dr. Parker Chesson, Jr., College of The Albemarle president, cut a slice of cake to celebrate the COA's 25th anniversary on Dec. 16, while Charles M. Gordon, who served as chairman of the college's first board of trustees, assists. As chairman of the

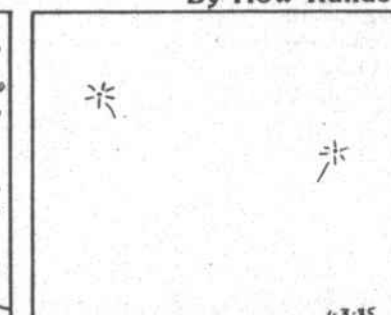

Elizabeth City Chamber of Commerce education committee in 1959, he was a driving force in the establishment of the college, and was named last week as one of three recipients of the COA 25th Anniversary Award. (COA Photo)
