The football team are not the only ones who work hard on Friday nights. The marching pirates also work hard. Shown here they performed on Friday night. The band did a chorus type show with songs including Matador, and a drum solo.

The Chowan hospital booth conducted hemocrit test and took blood pressures at the Indian Summer Festival.

Tomato recipes for garden leftovers

Perhaps you have an overabundance of tomatoes in your garden. If so, treat yourself to a dish of baked green tomatoes. Extra ripe tomatoes are the problem you say? Create your own picante salsa for tacos or other Mexican dishes.

GREEN TOMATOES BAKED WITH HERBS
4 medium sized green tomatoes, cut in half crosswise
1/2 cup grated pamesan cheese
2 tablespoons dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons dry minced parsley
3/4 teaspoon dry basil
3/4 teaspoon dry oregan
1/4 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons butter, melted
Place tomato halves on a lightly greased baking sheet. Combine re-

1 bunch green onions, cut into 1 inch pieces
1 small green tomato, cored and cut into eighths
1 medium avacado, peeled and cut in to chunks
1/4 cup olive oil
2-3 tablespoon lime juice
1 teaspoon garlic powder
1 ground cumin
1 teaspoon ground cumin
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon sugar

maining ingredients and mix well. Spoon over the cut surface of each tomato. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes or until tomato is thoroughly heated. Yield 8 servings.

SALSA PICANTE
2 fresh jalapino peppers
1 tablespoons plus 1 teaspoon dried whole cilantro
3 medium tomatoes, cored and cut into eighths

Boil peppers until blistered (turning often). Place peppers in a plastic bag and let steam 10-15 minutes. Remove peel from each pepper. Cut a small slit in the side of each pepper and remove seed. Remove stems. Cut peppers into quarters and set aside. Combine peppers and remaining ingredients in the container of an electric blender or food processor. Process 10-15 seconds or until chopped to desired texture. Chill before serving. Serve as a dip or with salad. Yield: 3 cups.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

Dr. A.F. Downum OPTOMETRIST

SYMPTOMS OF CATARACT

If you have the beginnings of a cataract condition, there are certain signs to look for. There may be a slight blurring or clouding of vision, for example, often beginning in just one eye. Sometimes you may find bright light glaring or you may experience multiple images. The clouding of the lens of the eye causes the glare by scattering light rays as they enter the eye. In the same way, dust on a windshield causes glare when it scatters bright sunlight or light from an oncoming car. Tinted glasses or sunglasses can help reduce the glare.

A cataract condition can begin at any age, but it usually afflicts older people. Slowly and progressively the lens of the eye becomes more cloudy until surgery is recommended to correct it. However, it may be many years before the condition is serious enough to warrant surgery.

The problem with cataract symptoms is that they may be caused by some other eye problem. Only an examination by your eye specialist can determine what's causing them. If you're experiencing any of these symptoms, you should have your eyes examined.
