Constitution corner

By CHARLES W. LOWRY
D.Phil.(Oxon.), D.D.

"First published in The Pilot, Southern Pines, N.C., Sam Ragan, Editor and Publisher"

(Editor's note: This year we are celebrating the bicentennial of the United States Constitution. In honor of this celebration for the next several weeks we will be presenting a series of articles written by Dr. Lowry which emphasize the constitution, and it's important role in our nation's history.)

In 1878 Prime Minister William E. Gladstone of England wrote: "As the British Constitution is the most subtle organism which has proceeded from progressive history, so the American Constitution is the most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man."

This full text of the most famous description of the U.S. Constitution brings out, though not completely clearly, the basic difference between the constitutions of the two leading English-speaking countries. The British Constitution is unwritten, but is not nothing. It is a body of precedents in continual evolution. The final power is the Queen (or King) in Parliament headed by a Prime Minister. There is no power or court of appeal above Parliament. Its oldest name is the High Court of Parliament.

This fact was brought out recently by a plaintive appeal of the wealthy Duke of Westminster to the European Community, itself powerless. He complained that he had no recourse a home in a decree involving his London landholdings.

By contrast, our Constitution is the supreme law of the land and is a written document spelling out the limitations as well as the prerogatives of the central elements and agencies of government. The rights of people are protected, and the courts ranging up the Supreme Court are open to all.

Menu suggestions

Roll out the barbecue for the Fourth of July! For family or company it's the most friendly and casual way to have a good time...and the easiest on the cook.

The sauce for the North Carolina Grilled Chicken is yummy used for grillings or baking in the oven, so don't fret if it rains and prevents you from cooking outdoors! Just pour the sauce over the chickens when baking them in the oven.

The vegetables and dessert may be prepared ahead of time. The "Irish Potato Casserole" is removed from the refrigerator and baked for 30 minutes. The "Marinated Slaw and German Chocolate Cake" is ready for the keen appetites.

Paprika

Cook potatoes in boiling water about 30 minutes or until tender. Drain potatoes and mash. Beat cream cheese with an electric mixer until smooth. Add potatoes and remaining ingredients except paprika: beat until just combined. Spoon mixture into a lightly buttered 2- quart glass casserole; sprinkle with paprika. Cover and refrigerate over night.

Remove from refrigerator 15 minutes before baking. Uncover and bake in 350-degree preheated oven for 30 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

- MARINATED SLAW

 - 1 green pepper, chopped
 - 1 red pepper or pimento, chopped
 - 1 cup vinegar
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 1 cup water

Combine cabbage and peppers. In a saucepan, place vinegar, sugar, water, salt and mustard or celery seed. Over medium temperature, bring to a boil, just until sugar dissolves.
