Holiday Island selects youth to represent island

The Holiday Island Property Owners Association recently sponsored a contest to select a Mr. and Miss Holiday Island Personality to help represent the youth of Holiday Island in the Christmas Parade. The contest was organized by the Social Director, Ellen Rinehart, and the winners were selected on the basis of oral answers to a series of questions designed to reveal their personality traits. The judges were: Elsie Wilson, Lynn Hilbourne, Mike Meekins, and Ned Holter.

Miss Holiday Island Personality is Miss Traci Jump, who is a 15 year old Sophomore at Perquimans High School. Traci has been in the High School Band for the past two years, and she is Co-Captain of the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders. She is also a member of the Future Business Leaders of America. She has been honored and recognized innumerable times for her academic achievement.

Mr. Holiday Island Personality is Mr. Tg Weeks, Age 16, Tg chose to attend school in Edenton so that he could join the Navy Junior R.O.T.C. Unit at John A. Holmes High School. He is a member of the Precision Drill Team at the school. He is also a member of the Photography Club and the Sailing Club, and has been qualified to sail.

Baker family reunion held

The descendants of Richard R. "Dick" Baker born December 27, 1824 and Mary Ann Gregory Baker born January 6, 1842 held a reunion October 4 at Bethany United Methodist Church, Belvidere, N.C. A picnic lunch was served. Approximately 175 or more descendants attended. The descendants of James C. "Jim" Baker had the most members in attendance.

Baker, and the youngest living grandchild, Lester J. Baker, Belvidere, N.C. 60 years old, son of Charles F. Baker were present. A great granddaughter, Mrs. Linda R. Miller, Champaign, Illinois granddaughter of Edward J. Baker, traveled the farthest.

Pictures were displayed of Mary Ann Baker, each child, and other deceased members. Also, a blanket, over 100 years old, Mary Ann Baker had cleaned, dyed and woven from sheep's wool she gathered that was snagged on fences from grazing sheep.

A good time was enjoyed by everyone.
