ECSU NAMES WALTON NEW HEAD FOOTBALL COACH
Elizabeth City State University's Athletic Director Dr. Curtis Williams announced the naming of Johnnie B. Walton as ECSU's new head football coach.

Walton is no stranger to the position of coach at ECSU. He previously held the position from 1979-1983. Walton, since 1986, has been employed as assistant vice chancellor for development and planning at ECSU. He also is an alumnus of ECSU. He received his B.S. degree in 1969. He has also attended Hampton Institute.

Chancellor Jimmy R. Jenkins states, "Naturally, I am proud to accept the recommendation of Dr. Williams and to appoint Mr. Walton as head football coach. I believe that as an alumnus of the university and one who has been directly or indirectly involved with the athletic program for more than 13 years, Mr. Walton is uniquely capable of understanding the direction we are attempting to take the school, and I believe he can more easily embrace the program. Understanding that as a current member of the administrative team, we have a vested interest in the total success of this plan."

Walton's appointment is effective immediately.

1989 Commencement Exercises at ECSU

Elizabeth City State University will hold its one-hundred and eighth Commencement Convocation on Sunday, May 14, 1989 at 10:00 a.m., in Roebuck Stadium.

The commencement speaker will be Mr. Darwin N. Davis, senior vice president at the Equitable Financial Companies in New York City. Mr. Davis is a resident of Stamford, Connecticut and a graduate of Arkansas State AM & N University of Arkansas at Pine Bluff where he received his undergraduate degree in Business Administration. He received his masters degree in education from Wayne State University. He is the recipient of two honorary doctorates, a doctorate of public service from Ferris State College; and a doctorate of laws from the University of Arkansas.

The first commencement at what is now Elizabeth City State University was held on Friday, May 20, 1892, at the Pasquotank County Courthouse with the late Reverend Calvin Scott Brown of Winton, North Carolina, a black minister and educator, as the first commencement speaker.

College of The Albemarle Newsline

College of The Albemarle will offer Life and Health Insurance Prelicensing courses this month at the Elizabeth City campus.

"Introduction and General Law" will be offered May 12-14 and "Life and Health" will be offered May 19-21. Both classes will meet from 12:30-9:00 p.m. Fridays, 8:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. Saturdays, and 8:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. Sundays in room 107 of the C Building. Those registering will attend classes both weekends.

Preregistration is required and will be held through May 12 in room 113 of the A Building. The cost for the course is $15. The textbook will be available at the COA Bookstore for approximately $33.

No refunds will be allowed.

For further information, interested persons may call 335-0821, ext. 250 or 231.

NATIONAL SMALL BUSINESS WEEK

May 7-13 has been designated as National Small Business Week, and the N. C. Community College System's Small Business Center Network is celebrating the week by recognizing the 50 small business centers across the state.

College of The Albemarle's Small Business Center is one of these centers which provides a variety of services and sponsors a broad range of seminars of interest to Albemarle area small business owners and employees at little or no cost.

In addition to working closely with local chambers of commerce, COA's Small Business Center staff members serve as a networking group with economic development leaders, professional and trade associations, universities, and state and federal agencies to provide assistance to small business owners and potential owners.

For more information about COA's Small Business Center, call Lucy Gordon at 335-0821, ext. 231.

ing Meetings Work."

Barry Mitsch, president of Capital Training Associates and also vice-president of EDAC, Inc., an environmental consulting firm in Raleigh, received rave reviews when he presented a listening skills seminar last year for COA's Small Business Center. His Tuesday, May 23, seminar is designed to make future meetings well worth the investment of a company's time and resources.

"As people left Barry's listening seminar last year, many said they hoped COA could have him return to the area for another seminar," said Lucy Gordon, director of COA's Small Business Center. "We are pleased he is able to present another seminar for us on such an important topic as meetings."

MAKING MEETINGS WORK SEMINAR

College of The Albemarle's Small Business Center is bringing back a presenter by popular demand for a seminar entitled "Making Meetings Work."
