

Indian Summer Festival starts Friday

Event promises fun for the whole family

The 12th annual Indian Summer Festival promises fun for the entire family.

This year's edition will kick off with a Thursday evening Miss Indian Summer Festival pageant at Perquimans High School. The winner will preside over the two-day gala.

Downtown will take on the look of an old-fashioned street fair Friday, as merchants hawk their wares at sidewalk sales. Art and antique displays, a story time for children, Uncle Jessie the Clown, the Perquimans County High School band, and local vocalists will provide hours of fun for festival-goers. Add in the grilled delights from the sidewalk cafe, and Friday should tally up to a great day.

New to this year's festival will be the merchants auction. Don't bring money. You'll need turtle bucks to bid at this auction.

Saturday begins bright and early with a fun run and walk at 8 a.m. Arts, crafts, food, displays, entertainment, games and just plain fun dot the schedule for the day.

The 7 p.m. street dance will feature the hot sounds of August.

Whatever your tastes, it shouldn't be hard to find something to please at this year's Perquimans County Indian Summer Festival, organized and promoted by the Perquimans County Chamber of Commerce.
