Lowe's Regional Distribution Center - A Northeast North Carolina Success Story

In 2002, Lowe's Companies, Inc. formally announced the selection of Northampton County as the location of their newest Regional Distribution Center (RDC). Just one-quarter mile from Interstate-95, Lowe's realized the value of this strategic location to better serve their growing mid-Atlantic markets.

The Lowe's Regional Distribution Center (RDC) opened earlier this year and contains over 1.4 million square feet under roof. The facility, the largest of the Lowe's RDC's, represents a $90 million investment and now employs 540 persons with a total workforce of 600 expected in the future.

Gary Brown, Executive Director of the Northampton County EDC, feels that the Lowe's RDC represents hope for families in the Northampton-Halifax area. "I have had so many people thank me for Lowe's coming to Northampton County," Brown commented. "Where there was little chance of providing for their families before, a lot of folks in this area now feel a sense of renewed hope for the future. Northampton County owes a big "thank-you" to Lowe's, the North Carolina Department of Commerce and North Carolina's Northeast Partnership for their help in bringing this great company to Northeastern North Carolina," he added.

Bob Spivey, Chairman of the Northeast Partnership Board, echoed these comments, adding,

"Lowe's analyzed the opportunity for accessing the I-95 corridor, the labor force of Northampton and Halifax Counties, and the genuine desire of the community and the region for them to build their new RDC here, and the end result was this magnificent new facility in Northampton County." Spivey added, "These counties have lost so many jobs in the textile and forest products sectors in the past few years. The jobs created by Lowe's will go a long way to rebuilding the local economies."

Lowe's Companies, Inc. is a Fortune 100 company and a $26 billion retailer of home improvement products and equipment. The company serves more than seven million do-it-yourself and commercial business customers each week through 875 stores in 45 states. Lowe's is the world's second largest home improvement retailer and employs 130,000 people.
