Local vets in WWII

Page 2

Pirates get a gridiron win

Page 7

Rogers honored

Page 9

November 8, 2006, 2006 Vol. 74, No. 45 Hertford, North Carolina 27944

F3/C2CAR-RT LOTC-001 PERQUIMANS COUNTY LIBRARY 110 W ACADEMY ST HERTFORD, NC 27944-1306

THE PROPERTY ST 11/6/2006 INC 27944-1306 INC 27944-

TRIKIN

35 cents

Sheriff's deputies, ALE raid houses selling alcohol

SUSAN HARRIS

Law enforcement agencies charged two local men for selling alcohol illegally last Thursday after months of investigation.

Sheriff Eric Tilley said the pair were charged with possession of alcohol for sale without a permit and selling alcohol without a permit after suspected "shot houses" in the Hertford and Bethel Townships were searched by law enforcement officers. A "shot house" is a place where people buy drinks or "shots" of alco-

Wallace Simon Jones Jr. of 430 Burnt Mill Road, and Charlie Ferebee of 107 N. Main Street, Winfall were both charged with the misdemeanors and placed under $5,000 secured bonds. Both are out on bail.

The arrests came after an investigation spanning over six months, Tilley said. Both the sheriff's department and District ALE office in Elizabeth City had received complaints from county residents about activity in both locations.

"We had had numerous complaints at the (Burnt Mill Road) residence, including shots fired, fights and that kind of thing," Tilley said. There were also accusations of drug activity, although Tilley said no drugs were found during

There were several people at the Burnt Mill property, including Jones, when the search warrant was served, Tilley said, although no one was arrested except Jones. At the Hertford house, officers arrived to find no people on site, but a large amount of alcohol. Tilley said officers also found piles of ice in the front yard. As that property was being searched, officers arrested Ferebee at his Winfall home.

In addition to the sale of alcohol, complaints there included suspected drug activity and a great deal of people on the property. "We had people tell us that the line to get in there and buy shots wrapped around the house," Tilley

Tilley said customers paid $2 per shot for the alco-

In response to complaints, ALE District Officer Rodney Parker and the sheriff's department launched Operation Citizen Complaint and sent an undercover agent to both locations. The agent purchased alcohol at both.

In addition to ALE and the sheriff's office, and SBI agent with a drug dog and the N.C. Highway Patrol assisted with the raids.

Tilley said shutting down the shot houses marks the fourth case his department has been invol-Continued on page 12

Trick or treat!

PHOTOS BY SUSAN HARRIS

Downtown Hertford was filled with all manor of costumed characters last Tuesday when the downtown businesses hosted trick-or-treating on Halloween in the business district. From super heroes to witches to animals to princesses and more, a variety of visitors made their way down Church and Market streets.

Chase no trick OR treat

MARGARET FISHER

A man was arrested for reckless driving in Hertford on Halloween

At about 8:30 p.m., Grandy Jamal Dunbar, 21, of 880 Shillington Road, was driving a 1992 Nissan Maxima on King Street at an excessive speed when Officer Jeff Thomas spotted him, said Hertford Police Chief Dale Vanscoy.

Thomas clocked him at 36 in a 25-mile-per-hour zone, Vanscoy said. Dunbar didn't stop, but ran a stop sign at King Street and Hyde Park and continued onto Edenton Road Street to Cox Avenue. He headed onto Dobbs Street and through another stop sign at Railroad Avenue where he drove the wrong way on the one-way street.

Dunbar was apprehended on Railroad Avenue just before Grubb Street. He told officers that he had been heading to his girlfriend's house on Cox Avenue. He consented to a search of his vehicle after police found him carrying more than $400.

Dunbar was charged with careless and reckless driving, placed on an $800 secured bond and taken to Albemarle District Jail. He is set to appear at Perquimans County District Court on Dec. 6.

Schools take buses off S-bridge

MARGARET FISHER

Perquimans County Schools Superintendent Kenneth Wells announced that school buses are no longer trekking across the causeway and S-bridge as of Nov. 1.

Instead, they will take the long way to and from home traversing the high-

"Recently, county and town officials have discussed our sincere concern for the safety of the causeway," Wells wrote. observations "Personal and comments by those who use the causeway and S-bridge frequently led to this decision.'

Town, county and month and discussed top priorities such as the safety of the causeway, said Dwayne Stallings, assistant superintendent. The matter was also discussed at a previous meeting with state legislators.

"With the causeway seeming to continue to sink, it became a matter of school officials met last the safe passage of buses," Stallings said.

Concerns addressed about the patching of the road that's been done over the years and how the road conditions may lay the groundwork for a bus loaded with children to hit something or get hit and end up in the side of the Jeep and both ended up on the left side of the road past the lane at a in Stockton, said that she was just beginning to walk down the lane to get her mail from the box across

Continued on page 12

n't see (the accident) happen. But I heard this hor-rendous crash," Cobbs

Overton was charged with a safe moving violation, for not making sure it was safe to turn, and having an expired license

"I was walking out to pick up my mail, and I did-the road.

LuAnn Cobbs, who lives

County water rates to rise in March

MARGARET FISHER

Perquimans residents can County expect their water rates to go up beginning March 1.

County commissioners approved a rate change that will increase most water users, although residents using less than 1,000 gallons a month will see a decrease.

"We're selling water for less than it costs to produce it," said County Manager Bobby Darden about the current rates.

The rate will be a flat $6 per 1,000 gallons for using more than 1,000 gallons a month. For people who use 1,000 gallons or less, the rate will be $10 - a savings of $2.50.

High water consumption users, such as irrigated farms, will see the biggest increases, Darden said. That's because under the current rates, large water consumers pay less. The rates are $4.60 per 1,000 gallons, but they decline as the use increases until they level out at $2.50 for 20,000 or more gallons.

Average consumers that use about 4,000 to 5,000 gallons a month will see about a 29 percent increase.

"It'll increase conservation," said Commissioner Sue Weimar.

This March, the water rates won't have changed for 11 years. At the last increase in 1996, the average user experienced about a 60 percent increase, but the dollar amount of increase will be about the same as it was then, Darden said.

About 40 percent of customers use less than 2,000 gallons a month. Users of 2,000 gallons a month will see an increase of 28 per-

Continued on page 12

WEATHER

THURSDAY HIGH: 73, Low: 51 AM SHOWERS

FRIDAY HIGH: 71, Low: 53 SUNNY

SATURDAY HIGH: 74, Low: 56 PARTLY CLOUDY

Postal worker charged in two-car wreck

MARGARET FISHER

A two-car wreck on Road last Woodville caused Wednesday injuries to and involved charges against a mail carrier, said Trooper K.R. Briggs of the N.C. Briggs of the Highway Patrol.

At about 2.20 p.m., a rural carrier for the U.S. Postal Service, Judy Overton, 49, was traveling north on Woodville Road in a 1975 AMC Jeep. She began slowing down as she neared mailboxes to the right and a group of houses - called Stockton - on a lane on the left.

Abe Godfrey Jr., 17, was driving a 2001 Ford pickup and following behind her. Overton told Briggs that she was planning to turn

A postal worker was airlifted to a Norfolk hospital after being involved in a two-car collision on Woodville Road last Wednesday.

large to fit in a mailbox. Godfrey was preparing to pass Overton in the passing zone when she began turning. Overton told the left to deliver a package too officer she had her turn signal on, while Godfrey said that he didn't see the signal on. Neither was confirmed, Briggs said. Godfrey's truck hit the

Both said they were restraints. wearing Because the Jeep was a former Postal Service vehicle,

Continued on page 12