An Educational Missionary Rally was held last Monday night in the Reformed church. Addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. J. C. Leonard of Lexington and Rev. L. E. Feeler of High Point.

A chimney at the old Mills home-stand, owned by Rev. J. D. Newton, fell Wednesday night. Whether it was struck by lightning or collapsed on account of the giving way of the foundation is not known.

Miss Mary Adams, of McCall, S. C., who has been the guest of Miss Ella Lambeth for some days past, left Friday for Norwood where she will visit Miss Winnie Colson, who is also well known in Thomasville for a few days, after which she will proceed to her home.

Mr. Indo Tomlinson, of Statesville, is visiting relatives in town this week.

Mrs. D. C. Cox and daughter Miss Mammie Cox, spent Thursday in Greensboro.

Thomasville people keep up with the news wherever they are. By special request ten copies of The Davidsonian were sent to Capt. Burgin at Morehead City, last week, for distribution among the company.

Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Morton entertained a few friends quietly at an informal dinner Tuesday afternoon. Those present were Misses Ella Lambeth and Mary Johnson and Messrs. Chas. Lambeth and Austin Finch.

Three fine horses were killed during the storm Wednesday afternoon. The barn of Mrs. Manuel Myers, who lives south of town, was struck and two horses were killed. Mr. Tysinger who lives on the Gray place just over the Randolph line also lost one from the same cause.

Four carloads of machinery have arrived for the Jewel Cotton Mill—two cars of textile machinery and two cars of motors and other electrical appliances. This mill will run 6000 spindles and will require from one hundred fifty to two hundred hands to operate it when running on full time.

After the storm Wednesday afternoon Gray's creek went on a rampage, as usual, and effectually blocked Randolph street. The necessity of a bridge at that point has been urged again and again but the Powers that be seem to be deaf to all expostulations. The present rickety foot-bridge is a disgrace to the town.

The Davidsonian acknowledges receipt of a very interesting postcard from Capt. Burgin. It shows a photograph of the first and only capture of the season at Morehead-made by the Thomasville company. It consists of a huge sea-turtle weighing 350 pounds. At that rate the "Burgin Co." ought to be able to furnish turtle-soup gratis to the whole town.

Wednesday was the date of the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Southern Railway Co. in Greensboro. Among those who attended from Thomasville were: Mrs. H. G. Strayhorn, Miss Verna and Mr. Lionel Strayhorn; Mrs. Nettie Thomas and daughters Misses Irene and Hattie; Mrs. Arthur Thomas; Mrs. W. C. Harris and daughters Misses Edna and Lessie Harris, and Mrs. Sossaman.

Mr. Lister A. Martin had a rather startling adventure Sunday night when, as he was going from the Thomasville Hotel porch to the street, a small black dog sprang from the weeds by the pool-room and attacked him viciously. Without a bark or noise of any kind the creature leaped upon him from behind and sank his teeth into his leg just below the knee. Mr. Martin kicked him loose but not until the flesh had been painfully lacerated. Dr. Easley who was consulted at once, seemed to think the hurt only a trifling one, but in dog-days the episode was by no means pleasant.

The Thomasville Military Company returned yesterday from Morehead, sleepy but happy. What with the capture of the famous turtle, a good cooling-off down by the seaside, and an excellent record made at the encampment they have reason to be pleased, in spite of sunburned backs and peeled noses. The DAVIDSONIAN hopes to have an account of the trip by some member of the company in next week's issue.
