ERWIN CHATTER

November, 1944

The sun is hidden below the waves

With darkness covering the sea, The Japanese in foxholes, And snipers concealed in trees.

The Doughboys with Australians Will destroy them one by one, Their tommy guns quite loaded To defeat the Rising Sons.

With fleets of heroes flying Quite swiftly through the air, Their acridity with bombing Destroy our enemies' snare.

With altitude in fighting planes They attack our great Allies. Our Heroic sons with deadly guns Blast them from the skies.

We at home are fighting hard For your complete supply, Heroic fighting men like you Will not let freedom die. -by J. N. Parker. .

VOLLEY BALL

(Continued from Page 1) season, but before the courts on Park Hill were finished it was necessary for the men working on these to help unload cotton at the warehouses. These courts will be ready for use in the early spring, however. Until we can again go out-of-doors, let's all join the volley ball team from our department and enjoy a good winter-time sport.

Mills Company, any mention or remembrance of that name instantly takes his mind back home, no matter where he may be.

Perhaps you can imagine how I felt when I received my copy of your newspaper in the mail today. I heartily agree with the judges in selecting the name ERWIN CHATTER for this newspaper. Thanks a million for putting my name on the mailing list.

Any news from home is good news and nearly all the people mentioned in the newspaper are old friends of mine. Thanks again.

CPL. BEN MITCHELL.

COMMUNITY SING

Zone 3: (1) Mrs. Lizzie Dinkins, (2) Mrs. J. F. Grimes.

There were other prizes given, also. The best church choir was given a $25.00 War Bond, this going to the Baptist Church. The largest family present received a large basket of fruit. This went to Mr. F. M. Smith's family above Mocksville, The oldest couple, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Gobble, received a pair of wool gloves each.

These affairs would never be so attractive or so helpful if it were not for our able musician, Rev. C. E. B. Robinson. We do wish to thank him for his untiring effort in practicing with each group and directing our singing. Cooleemee.

Bleachery and Vat Dye Card Room

Lloyd Privette had the misfortune of catching his right hand in a Sanforizer when he began his work a short time ago.

We are expecting a certain girl to begin giving dancing lessons most any day now.

Ethel Mayhew is on the sick list. Hurry back to work, "Tom," we need you.

Who started to church last Sunday morning and had a flat tire on the way? We wonder if he lost his religion. How about it, "Pack"?

Mrs. Noah Plott left a bunch of sad inspectors the other Saturday when she got off and went to the Winston-Salem fair.

Mr. Eaton went deer hunting one weekend. We wonder where he left his deer, he didn't bring them home.

To all the boys who are in ervice from the Vat Dye and Bleachery: We miss you and are looking forward to your return. Good luck to you, boys!

Mrs. W. G. Eaton has received word that her nephew, Jimmy, is Somewhere in New Guinea.

We are sorry about Mrs. Beck's accident and hope she will soon be able to return to work.

We have two new girls on the third shift, Maggie and Betty. We welcome you and hope you enjoy working with us.

Frank Dwiggins traded mules as all of us already know. How about it, Mr. Frank, who got the best bargain?

If you want a loan, just see the Boss-all the security you need is a cotton patch.

He: "I'd like to look at some rings."

Jeweler: "Yes sir, can I show you some of our combination sets?"

He: "Yeah, show me a three piece combination — engagement, wedding and teething."

WAR FUND DRIVE
