Employees Urged to Watch Department Contest Standing

Six Departments Stand to Participate in Prizes If Present Record Maintained

If someone asks you how your department stood in the Safety Contest for your mill, could you tell them? This is a matter that concerns every employee in every department because the winning or losing of the department contest means the difference between getting or losing valuable employee prizes to be distributed the last of August.

This contest to see which department could improve its last year's record the most in each mill will definitely show where teamwork and interest in safety has been the most active. Everyone wants to be a winner, but unless YOU as an individual watch the blue prints on the bulletin board and know how your department stands in this contest, you can't very well become enthusiastic and get your fellow worker to finish the contest without an accident.

New standings are now on the bulletin boards. If your department is not on top it is time that you and your fellow employees get together and really pull your department out of the red. If you are on top keep your record good by continuing safe practices. REMEMBER SAFETY is its own reward.

The purpose in any contest is to develop interest and the prizes run into several hundreds of dollars in this case. Show your interest by talking and working safety in order that we may justify these contests individually in the future.

The present standings in the Department Safety Contest are as follows:

No. 3 Finishing

Napper.....	Tied
Cloth.....	for
Bleachery.....	1st
Vat Dye.....	2nd
Shipping.....	3rd
