The Juniors were honored to have Mrs. Brady as their guest, who brought to them a very inspiring and beneficial message on a subject of importance to all Juniors, "The Junior Work as Outlined by a National Counselor." There are many projects to be accomplished during the year, as outlined on the Junior Club rating sheet, and Mrs. Brady stressed the importance of all clubs striving to attain the National Honor Roll, and have North Carolina lead the Nation again this year as last year for having the highest number of National Honor Roll Clubs. To the Junior Club in each District of the State making the highest number of points by rating sheets, which means the club doing the most worthwhile work, an award will be given this year. The value of subscribing to the National Junior Magazine was also stressed for "a good member is an informed member." In conclusion Mrs. Brady said that there are over one hundred Junior Clubs in North Carolina, all doing fine and enthusiastic work, and urged the members to so work that they may always be able to say, "I promise to do all (Continued on page 2)

Parent-Teacher Association Stages Successful Halloween Carnival

Nearly 800 People Join in the Fun

Halloween was celebrated at a gay carnival attended by nearly 800 people in the Cooleemee Public School. The budget and finance committee reported gross receipts of approximately $750.00 raised for the needs of the school.

Hayden Stillier, master of ceremonies, enlivened the evening for all present with his wit and humor.

In the popularity contest for babies Betty Jean Spillman and Michael Daniels won first place and received a fur muff and football, respectively, as prizes. Janie Freeman and Jack Riddle of the 11th grade won out as queen and king in a closely contested and spirited balloting. They were crowned by C. N. Spry, immediate past president of the PTA. Mrs. Avery Sink won the pig.

The following people were in charge of the various activities: White Elephant Sale—Miss Charlotte Purcell, assisted by Miss Mildred Dull and Mrs. Mary Wall Sexton; Cake Walk—Mrs. Beulah Apperson; Refreshment Stand—Miss Mary Lee McMahan; Pig Contest—Frank Garwood; King and Queen—Ralph Sinclair; Baby Contest—Miss Mariola Crawford; Fishing Booth—Mrs. Creola Wilson; Fortune Teller—Mrs. Clarence Bost, assisted by Fortune Teller, Miss Betty Jo Davis. Decorations were in charge of Miss Rosa Tatum, and the posters were supplied by Mrs. Ruby Moore's committee. The amplifying system was supplied by the local C. I. O. through the assistance of Dallas Nichols. Cakes and items for the White Elephant Sale were contributed by parents and friends of the PTA and school.

District Federation of Music Clubs Holds Annual Meet at Cooleemee

Mrs. Charles Hassel, State President, is Guest Speaker

The Southern District of the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs held its annual fall meeting at the Cooleemee Methodist Church, Saturday, October 26. Mrs. C. C. Duncan, District Director, presided, and Mrs. Baxter Young was acting secretary.

The roll was called, and the clubs of the district gave their reports for the past year of the work they had accomplished.

Several musical selections were presented by the members of the district, and a presentation was made by a group of male singers from Catawba College, directed by Professor Harry Taylor.

The highlight of the meeting was an address by Mrs. Charles Hassel, State President. She urged all members be imbued with the ideal of service and to increase their knowledge of all music.

A luncheon was served while Mrs. Thomas Zachary of Salisbury played conversational music.
