ASTROLOGY GUIDE
By
Lauren Hill

Aries "The Ram" (Mar 21-Apr 20) Your family is taking a bit of doing, but latest efforts to resolve difficulties in romance. Some unexpected help will come your way. Don't let temperament continue to create unharmy, dear Aries. Let by-gones be by-gones.

Taurus "The Bull" (Apr 21-May 21) All that "hearts and flowers" takes a bit of doing, but can you think of a better way to get a romance on the road? This week should prove a memorable one, at least in the love department. Pay attention to your "Aries" pal.

Gemini "The Twins" (May 22-June 21) Some people closely connected with you seem exacting and difficult this week, but try to deal with them in a light-hearted way. Remember not to force issues and be prepared to give a little. Monday will be a tense day.

Cancer "The Crab" (June 22-July 23) This is the week to make an extra effort to gain what you may have previously considered beyond your reach. If you follow your guiding star, which works through intuition, there appears to be no unsurmountable obstacle on your road to happiness.

Leo "The Lion" (July 24-Aug 23) A hectic week ahead. A new responsibility shows but the extra work involved will be easily balanced by the pleasure it gives you. By mid-week the interest will be on domestic events. A few snags will appear that will have you in a whirl.

Virgo "The Virgin" (Aug 24-Sept 23) You might hear this week of an interesting proposition that could net you huge rewards. You may have to change some of your plans, Luv, but most of them will work out to your advantage. Deal promptly with work and career problems and you will be surprised with results.

Libra "The Balance" (Sept 24-Oct 23) For the "heart-free" something special is about to happen...perhaps words you want to hear? It looks as if you can be optimistic over something Luv. Be sure to take advantage of the good trends showing this week.

Scorpio "The Scorpion" (Oct 24-Nov 22) Don't risk arguments with someone you love...just to keep a new friend happy. This could be the cause of difficulties at home and at work. You will hear about some future changes, but don't rush in where angels fear to tread. OK?

Sagittarius "The Archer" (Nov 23-Dec 21) If you have been feeling unsettled in the past few weeks mainly because of other people, relatives in particular, take heart, this will change. You are coming into a very happy and lucky phase.

Capricorn "The Goat" (Dec 22-Jan 20) Try to take an older and wiser friend into your confidence if you run into trouble this week. On Saturday a message or call will bring the news that you have been waiting for. The week will end with a new experience for you.

Aquarius "Water Bearer" (Jan 21-Feb 19) You would do well to hold your temper this week...if not it will lead you into all kinds of trouble. Take the advice given to you by a Taurus friend. No good can come from "spouting off at the mouth" time after time.

Pisces "The Fishes" (Feb 20-Mar 20) Your finances seem to be giving you some trouble, but bear with it, some assistance is coming your way. You are essentially a person who gets things done and with a little help you'll see this through, too.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

You are always ready to lend a helping hand if you can. You are cautious and take no foolish risks since your physic perceptions call a halt in the nick of time. You are generous and your home is open to those who are considerate, kind, co-operative and inspired. You usually engage in a career that will enable you to demonstrate your capabilities to full advantage. You crave a harmonious and pleasant home life and do all in your power to achieve this end. In business you sometimes unintentionally provide co-workers with reasons to openly stir up antagonism with your compulsion to make changes in routine and start something new and untried. Those born under your sign have the greatest successes in life in occupations connected with the medical, scientific or related professions.

Are you planning to buy a used car? Before you start to look at cars, you should figure out what you can afford to pay. Remember to include the cost of the car, estimated insurance and taxes.

Determine what features you need in a car, such as size, horsepower and luggage space. These will be determined by the size of your family, whether most of your driving is in the city or on the highway, and whether you travel a great deal.

Cars between two and four years old are usually the best buys. Be sure to test drive the car. If there is anything about the way it runs that you don't like, but want the car anyway, try to make an arrangement to have the car fixed by the dealer before you buy it. Don't buy it until it runs to your satisfaction. If you have any doubts about the way the car runs, ask to have it examined by an outside mechanic. If the dealer refuses, buy from a different dealer.

Remember that a six cylinder engine can operate on less expensive gas than an eight cylinder engine.

It is usually best to trade with an authorized new and used car dealer. Such dealers are franchised by the company that manufactures the cars they sell, and have been investigated by the company for financial responsibility and business reputation.

You should be wary of a dealer who urges you to "Buy it now, three other people want it too," who advertises "Repossessed cars at bargain prices, who tries to sell you a more expensive car than the one you are interested in, who won't agree to fix anything that is wrong with the car, won't let you test drive the car, and won't tell you the total price, including finance charges.

Make the biggest down payment you can afford, as this reduces your finance charges. Thirty (30) per cent is good. Be sure everything is written into the contract, and get a written warranty. Keep copies of everything. Be sure to get prices from different dealers.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return for the year ending January 1-December 31, 1966, or other taxable year ending 1966. U.S. Treasury Department - Internal Revenue Service. Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. Several weeks ago, I left my summer job to return to school. I earned a total of $1700 from the job. I won't have any more income for the remainder of the year. Does this mean that I won't have to file in 1974?

A. In general, if you are single, you don't have to file a return unless you made more than $2050. However, if income tax was withheld from your pay, you must file a return to have that tax refunded to you.

Q. My husband works, and now that my two children are in their teens, I also plan to take a job. If I hire a maid to clean the house and keep an eye on the children when they are home, can I get a tax deduction for her salary?

A. If your dependent children are under 15, you may be entitled to a deduction for amounts you pay a person for household services necessary to the operation of your home and for the well-being and protection of your children.

There are a number of limitations on the child care deduction. For instance, for a full deduction, you and your husband must not have more than $18,000 in combined income. For every dollar your income exceeds $18,000, your deduction is reduced by 50 cents. This means that if your income reaches $27,600, your deduction will completely disappear. For information on other limitations on the deduction, write your local Internal Revenue office for a free copy of IRS Publication 503, "Child Care and Disabled Dependent Care."

Q. I've taken out thousands of dollars worth of life insurance on my life with proceeds payable to my wife and children. If something should happen to me, will the proceeds be included in my estate and will federal estate tax have to be paid?

A. First, no federal estate tax is due if the value of the estate on the date of death is $60,000 or less. Secondly, the insurance proceeds on your life are included in the estate only if they are receivable by the estate or by another for the benefit of the estate or you possessed an incident of ownership in the policy. This last requirement is especially important. It means that if you hold legal title to the policy or have the power to change beneficiaries, revoke an assignment, pledge the policy for a loan or surrender or cancel the policy, the proceeds of the policy will be included in your estate.

For more details, see IRS Publication 448, "A Guide to Federal Estate and Gift Taxation." It's available for 50 cents from your IRS district office or Government Printing Office bookstore.

Q. I had to pay interest and a penalty for filing a late tax return. I know the interest is deductible. What about the tax penalty?

A. Although the interest charged on tax payments is deductible, tax penalties are not.
