

THE TRIBUNAL AID

Serving Guilford, Forsyth, Davidson and Randolph Counties

VOLUME 1, NO. 46

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10, 1974

15 CENTS PER COPY $3.00 PER YEAR

Art Guild Has Show

HIGH POINT - An "Everything But Painting" arts and crafts show, sponsored by the High Point Fine Art Guild, went on display Monday in the community room at High Point Public Library.

The show, according to Martha Hamilton, art guild president, recognizes the many guild artists, and others, who work primarily or otherwise in the crafts field.

On display are a variety of jewelry, photography, needlework, cloth collage, macrame, soft sculpture, batik, pottery, woodwork and wrought iron work, done in the restored 1780 blacksmith shop on the grounds of Haley House at High Point Museum.

Mrs. Donald Woodgeard is chairman of the exhibition, which is an open show with no entry fees and no prizes. No paintings, drawings, prints or hard-surface sculpture were accepted because of the many shows that are open to exhibiting artists in these fields.

The arts and crafts display is open to daily viewing during library hours, when the community room is not otherwise scheduled for meetings or programs.

Concessions Leased In Parks

HIGH POINT - The High Point Parks and Recreation Commission is leasing concession rights in the various parks in High Point at this time for the summer of 1974.

First preference will be given to groups that are co-sponsoring public recreation activities at a particular facility. Second preference will be given to groups that have successfully run concessions in the past but are not co-sponsoring an activity. Third preference will be given to community organizations wishing to operate park concessions and to individuals or concessions businesses. Bids will not be taken to operate concessions.

Contact Sara Harrison, Office Manager, at the Parks and Recreation Department, 883-7171, Extension 247.

WHAT'S INSIDE

- Editorials
- Entertainment
- Features
- Sports

Congratulations

Sir Henry...

Black Mafia Leader Arrested By FBI

WASHINGTON - Clarence M. Kelley, FBI director, recently announced the arrest in Chicago of Ronald Harvey, 33, one of the agency's 10 most wanted and who was described as a leader of the so-called Philadelphia "black Mafia" crime syndicate.

Harvey, a native of Philadelphia, was sought for various alleged crimes including interstate flight, murder, conspiracy, assault to kill, armed robbery and armed burglary, Kelley said. FBI agents arrested him in Chicago late Wednesday.

Symposium Scheduled For N.C.

RALEIGH - North Carolina has been chosen as the site of one of ten symposiums to be conducted throughout the nation by the Advanced Coronary Treatment Foundation (ACT), it was announced recently by Jim Page, chief of North Carolina's Office of Emergency Medical Services.

Black Congressman Calls Watergate A Serious Moral Cancer

DURHAM - Congressman Walter Fauntroy (D.-D.C.) thinks Watergate and the reflected scandals in Washington reflect a serious "moral cancer" in American politics, but moral crisis is "nothing new" in American history, according to Fauntroy.

Fauntroy, the black representative of the District of Columbia in the U.S. Congress, said the present moral crisis is the most serious the country has faced. He spoke to a recent symposium on "The Moral Crisis in American Politics: The Minority Response" at North Carolina Central University Friday.

Bias charged to Calif. realtor

WASHINGTON - The Department of Justice has filed a civil suit charging a suburban Los Angeles real estate broker with illegally steering black home buyers to black and racially changing neighborhoods. Attorney General William B. Saxbe said the housing discrimination suit was filed in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles against Jack A. Salling, owner of Nu-Way Realty, of Carson.

Food World Inc. Must Refund $30,753

GREENSBORO - Food World, Inc., formerly Big Bear of North Carolina, Inc., a retail food chain headquartered in High Point, will refund to the general-public a total of $30,753.04 in overcharges, the IRS announced today.

The refund will be made by reducing prices on the future sale of certain selected grocery items. The refund is to be completed by May 25, 1974.

The refund is the result of an investigation by IRS initiated last September which revealed that the firm had exceeded allowable sales prices during Phase IV of the Economic Stabilization Program.

OUT OF SEASON? Not really, Fayetteville State University co-ed Rita James is all suited in her football attire as a candidate for the Miss Homecoming contest at FSU. (FSU Photo by John B. Henderson)

WINSTON-SALEM - The School of Nursing of Winston-Salem State University was recently presented approximately 300 volumes of nursing materials from the Kate Bitting Reynolds School of Nursing Library. The books donated cover: the areas of anatomy and physiology, pediatric, geriatric and orthopedic nursing, chemistry, and indexes to medical and allied health periodicals. The books were presented to Mrs. Mary S. Isom, dean of the School of Nursing, [right], by Mrs. Naomi Lone, [center], medical librarian at Forsyth Memorial Hospital. Walter Brown, the university's development officer, accepts a volume.

SCHOOL SENIORS BOW AT COTILLION

By Gay Payne
Staff Correspondent

HIGH POINT - Top of the Mart was the recent setting for the twelfth annual Cotillion sponsored by the Beta Omicron Omega chapter of the Alpha Kappa Alpha, Inc. sorority.

Sixteen High School seniors were presented at the Cotillion, Saturday night.

"Fantasy in Pink", the theme of the Cotillion, was seen in the dresses of the young ladies and the decorations for the event.

Mrs. Henry (Shirley) Frye of Greensboro, a member of the Beta Lota chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha, Inc., presented the Cotillionettes.

In salute to the Cotillionettes Ms. Donna Bailey, a senior at Shaw University in Raleigh and a member of the Beta Rho chapter challenged the young ladies to "question the mysteries of life, themselves, and everyone. She explained that no longer can a single answer be accepted for questions encountered. Ms. Bailey proposed a need to seek multi-purposeful answers.

"Will, courage, and guts are needed for - nothing is impossible; every dream can become a fact," explained Ms. Bailey.

John Moore, a student at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro sang, "The Impossible Dream" to the Cotillionettes in conjunction with the theme set by Ms. Bailey.

Following the parade of the Cotillionettes and the traditional waltzes, the young ladies presented to the more than 500 guests the Cotillion theme figure, choreographed by Ms. Georgene Dye of Greensboro, a member of the Beta Rho chapter.

Miss Sylvia Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter T. Collins, was featured as a soloist in a song written and sung by the Cotillionettes for the event.

Miss Janet L. Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miller C. Carter, was recognized as the Outstanding Cotillionette for 1974.

A senior at T. Wingate Andrews Senior High School, Miss Carter is a member of the Anchor Club, Chorus, Library Club and the Modern Music Masters. She is a member of Memorial United Methodist Church, where she accompanies the Junior Choir and holds membership on the Council on Ministries and in the United Methodist Youth.

Prior to Saturday's gala event, awards were presented to several Cotillionettes.

At the Marshall dinner held in honor of the marshalls Wednesday at the YWCA on Gatewood Street, Anita Dicken and Robbin Moffitt received special recognition. Awards went to Marsha Roebuck and Stephanie Strong, scrapbook; Janet Carter and Vivian Mackey, essay, and Sylvia Collins and Mackey, talent.

The Cotillionettes presented at the ball and their marshalls are: Janet Louise Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miller C. Carter, marshal Warren D. Lewis; Sylvia Ann Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter T. Collins, marshal Theodore Ingram; Teresa Gail Connor, daughter of Mrs. Marian W. Payne, marshal William Saunders; Anita Cherie Dicken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Dicken, marshal James Michael Becote; Orris Lynn Dumas, daughter of Mrs. Rosa B. Dumas, marshal Fredrick Moore; Toni Belinda Gibson, daughter of Mrs. Betty Gibson, marshal John Rogers.

Sonia Lavonne Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Johnson, marshal Alvester Hughes, Jr; Patricia Rose Hardison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Hardison, marshal William Washington; Annette Elaine Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Clemmons, marshal Vincent York; Vivian Lavonne Mackey, daughter of Mrs. Gloria Mackey, marshal Melvin Wells; Robin Iola Moffitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moffitt, marshal Ronnie Tabor; Johnnie Mae O'Neil daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, marshal Lee C. Foye; Sharon Kaye Pressley, daughter of Mrs. Louella Pressley, marshal John Charles Gray; Marsha Elaine Roebuck, daughter of Mrs. Charles M. Roebuck, marshal Wesley B. Griffin; Jaqueline Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Sanders, marshal Gary Robertson; and Stephanie Lynn Strong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Strong, marshal Robert Jones.

Mrs. Murphy B. Davis is president of the Omicron Omega chapter. Mrs. R.A. Beatty, Mrs. C.E. Davis, Mrs. R.J. Hanes, Mrs. Haywood Keaton, Mrs. R.A. Massey and Ms. Angelica McCormick composed the Cotillion Committee.

"We must give our children a sense of pride in being black. The glory of our past and the dignity of our present must lead the way to the power of our future."

ADAM CLAYTON POWELL