NATIONAL

President Ford disclosed in his recent State of the Union Message that "the State of the Union is not good." As a means to improve the conditions of the economy, Ford proposed a plan which included the following elements:

*Temporary Tax Cut - a one-time cut of 12 per cent in last year's taxes of which $12 billion is to be distributed through rebates to individual tax payers.

*Permanent tax cuts - a $16.5 billion tax cut to individuals with the largest reductions going to the poorest tax payers and a $6 billion tax cut to corporations.

*Energy Conservation - a $2 billion annual increase in Revenue sharing funds with revenue distributed to state and local governments.

*Federal Spending - a one year moratorium on federal spending programs and a five per cent ceiling for 1975 on increases in federal pay, food stamps, and federal military and civilian retirement benefits.

*Standby Controls - a measure wherein the President will have emergency authority to ration gasoline and/or allocate use of petroleum products and control their prices.

*Aid to Utilities - a three year 12 per cent investment tax credit for utilities that convert power plants from oil to coal, and postponement of clean air standards for utilities until 1985.

*Emission Controls and Mileage Controls - a lessening of stringent emission standards and voluntary emphasis upon increasing gasoline mileage by 40 per cent by 1980.

*Payments to Nontaxpayers - Direct federal payments of $80 to each adult American who is so poor he pays no income taxes.

For a number of years, the amount charged consumers by credit insurance companies was not a major concern of North Carolina Insurance Commissioner John Ingram. Recently it became apparent to Ingram and his staff that credit insurance rates run as high as 94 cents per $100. (almost $1.00 per $100.00) and most companies pay out less than 30 cents for every dollar collected in premiums. Learning from the attorney general's office that he is within his rights

INTEGRATION: GREAT HOAX

SALISBURY - "Integration is the greatest hoax that has been played on Negroes since the emancipation proclamation was signed by Abraham Lincoln", Attorney Herman Taylor of Greensboro, noted pioneer civil rights lawyer, said here at Martin Luther King's birthday celebration at the Mt. Zion Baptist Church where several hundred persons were paid tribute to the late slain leader.

Martin Luther King didn't mean that Negroes want a hand-out, but desired that they possess the land of freedom. Negroes have reached a new plateau in civil rights and it is about time that they must realize it. Unless we take up the mantle given to us by Dr. King and other leaders, we will lose the battle. The promised land of freedom can be possessed by black folks by using voting power and finance power. These two are the only kind of power that America understands. Negroes must learn to do for themselves and stop expecting a hand-out, if they are to achieve the things that Dr. King believed in.

"There are already enough civil rights laws already passed. What the Negro needs to do now is implement the fourteenth amendment that has been defined by civil rights lawyers in the struggle for total freedom," Mr. Taylor emphasized.

"Black is a word that has taken our minds off of integration". Black students on white college campuses were the first to discover this and began to change the hoax by requesting 'black studies and black dorms' at these schools." The Negro must not lose his identity. "We are Negroes and will always be Negroes". There is no need by being misled by the term black that has been used to slow up the progress of civil rights".

Negroes must learn how to advance their own cause here in America. We have the hardest time in the world getting support for our businesses, which shouldn't be. Learn the art of supporting your own. A lesson can be learned from the Jew who has not lost his identity. Those who are trained must not forget the untrained. "Unless blacks learn how to get their hands on some finance power, they can forget civil rights".

They must get into the mainstream of America. "The clenching of a fist and raising of a hand with a sign and using the pass word 'right on brother' is folly". For it means nothing. What the Negro needs to do is become an aid and supporter to total freedom by possessing the land to the rights that are for all people.

Mr. Taylor told the enthused audience who constantly applauded his address that "Martin Luther King has made the greatest contribution to mankind that has been made in the twentieth century". It is now up to the Negro to do what he can to advance the cause for which Dr. King so gladly fought for and believed in.

The Rev. Edgar French, director of Student Personnel at Livingstone, a one time associate with the late civil rights leader in the Montgomery Movement in its beginning, paid tribute to Dr. King and reviewed some of the highlights of the effort. Mr. French said that Dr. King was a disciple of non violence, but was fearless. He was courageous and practiced without fear freedom for all people. He was the right man with the right idea at the right time. He was one of those people who believed that no part of the American public could be free until all were free.

Several other local ministers appeared on program that included the Rev. Theodore Walker, First Calvary Baptist, who prayed the invocation; the Rev. M.C. Wilkerson, St. Luke Baptist Church, Hawkins-town, who read the scripture lesson; the Rev. Joseph Spears, Trinity Presbyterian Church, who read the emancipation proclamation; the Rev. Frederick D. Hubbard, Second A.M.E. Zion Church, Los Angeles, Calif.; the Rev. David

Domestic Workers Get 2.00 An Hour Minimum

More than 1.5 million domestic service workers will be entitled to a $2.00-an-hour minimum wage effective January 1, 1975, Secretary of Labor Peter J. Brennan announced today.

The increase is a result of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) amendments which became effective May 1, 1974, and which extended minimum wage coverage for the first time to 75 percent of all private household workers. The initial wage rate was $1.90 an hour.

Betty Southard Murphy, administrator of the Employment Standards Administration's (ESA) Wage and Hour Division, said that two more scheduled increases -- to $2.20 an hour on January 1, 1976, and to $2.30 on January 1, 1977 -- will put domestic workers on a par with most other FLSA-covered employees.

The minimum wage applies to private household workers who receive at least $50 per calendar quarter from one employer or who work a total of more than eight hours a week for one or more employers.

Exempt from coverage are persons employed as casual babysitters or as home companions to the disabled or elderly. Overtime pay at the rate of time-and-a-half is required for employees working more than 40 hours a week for one employer. Live-in workers are exempt from overtime coverage.

The reasonable cost or fair value of board, lodging and other facilities and the employee's half of Social Security taxes are allowable toward the minimum wage if paid by the employer.

Employers are responsible for determining whether their employees are covered under the Act, for informing them of the new wage rate, and for paying them the required wage and overtime.

Further information is available from local Wage-Hour Division offices listed in most telephone directories under U.S. Government, Department of Labor, Employment Standards Administration.
