

THE BETTER WE KNOW US ...

CHAPEL HILL—Howard Nathaniel Lee, 40 years old, was born in the middle-depression years, July 28, 1934, to a sharecropper family in Lithonia, Georgia. He is the oldest of seven children (five boys and two girls). Mr. Lee's parents, Howard and Lou Tempie Lee are living in Lithonia, Georgia. Mrs. Lee, his mother, is retired after teaching public school for thirty-two years. Mr. Lee, Howard's father, works at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia, in the X-Ray Department.

Howard graduated from the Bruce Street High School, third in his class, after dropping out twice. Upon graduation, he was named "Best All Around Student" in his class. He attended Clark College for three years with a major in Chemistry and Pre-Medicine before being asked to withdraw because of poor grades. He immediately persuaded the officials at the Fort Valley State College, Fort Valley, Georgia to allow his enrollment on a trial basis. He majored in Sociology and Pre-Professional Social Work. In 1959, he graduated with honors. He served for two years in the U.S. Army, spending more than one year in Korea. Following his release from the Army, he worked for three years in the Juvenile Domestic Relations Court in Savannah, Georgia.

Howard and his family moved to Chapel Hill in 1964, where he entered the Graduate School of Social Work at the University of North Carolina, and subsequently received his masters degree in Social Work in 1966. Following graduation, he accepted employment with Duke University in Durham as Director of Youth Services (1966 - 68); from 1968 - 69, he was Director of Employee Relations at Duke University and Assistant Professor of Sociology at North Carolina Central University at Durham. He later (1969) became Director of the Office of Human Development at Duke University.

Lee currently holds membership on many Boards, Commissions, and Committees. A few of which are: The Southern Regional Council, National Association of Social Workers, N.C. Heart Association and The National Conference of Social Welfare. He is a member of Civitan and he was a former deacon in the Binkley Baptist Church of Chapel Hill. He has received many awards and has written and been published widely on several subjects. He has been awarded the Honorary Doctor of Laws degree by Shaw University.

He is a former vice-chairman of the N.C. Democratic Party (1970 - 72) and is currently a Democratic National Committeeman from North Carolina, and a member of the Board of Trustees, Wake Forest University.

Mr. Lee defied all odds and was elected Mayor of Chapel Hill in 1969

Do You Know Much About Economics?

(This message is reprinted from a three-page advertisement sponsored by the Business Round Table which appeared in the June, 1975 issue of the Readers Digest.)

The following is Part Two of Two Parts. Part One appeared in the Oct. 29th edition of this newspaper.

You're deeply involved in economics whether you've ever taken a course in it or not. Every time you buy a can of beans or collect a paycheck or put $20 in your savings account, you affect not only your own economic life, but the lives of others. Yet, many of us have only a vague understanding of "where the money goes" and "who gets what". How well do YOU know the system of which you're a part? Circle the correct answer to the following questions and see how you score.

(6) Why do professional baseball stars earn so much more than steelworkers or even lawyers? (a) Sports are vital to the economy. (b) Good athletes are scarce and their services are in great demand. (c) Baseball is the national sport. (d) Players have a powerful national bargaining agent.

(7) Which of these investments is the riskiest for you? (a) Savings accounts. (b) Corporate bonds. (c) Stocks. (d) Life insurance.

(8) What was the single biggest factor in raising the middle-income American family's cost of living last year. (A) Food. (b) Taxes. (c) Housing. (d) Fuel.

(9) Which of the following most accurately describes a recession? (a) Spending by business and consumers slackens. (b) Bottom falls out of the stock market. (c) There are more jobs than workers. (d) Government tax receipts rise.

(10) In the American economic system, the type and quantity of goods produced are determined largely through (a) governmental regulation. (b) price fluctuations on Wall Street. (c) the interaction of supply and demand. (d) corporate decisions.

ANSWERS

(6) (b) Baseball stars draw big salaries because their talents are scarce, and their services are sought after. That's supply and demand.

(7) (c) The greatest risk, but potentially the greatest reward, is investing in stocks. When you buy a share of a business and it flourishes,

Notes & Reminders

GREENSBORO—The Bennett College alumnae chapters for Winston-Salem, High Point, and Greensboro will hold their 2nd annual Tri-Ad Luncheon on Saturday, November 8. This year's activity is being held at the Holiday Inn - Four Season at noon.

Hostesses for the luncheon are chapter president Loretta Marshall, High Point; Peggy Oliphant, Greensboro; and Pansy Reddick, Winston-Salem. Presiding over the luncheon is Ellease R. Browning, director of Alumnae Affairs at Bennett.

"Our theme this year is 'Getting to Know You'," explains Mrs. Browning.

"The chapters have expressed concerns of meeting the faculty and staff of the college in order to better understand the institution's newest programs and its problems."

Invitations have been extended to the faculty, staff, and administrators. Special guest for the luncheon is Betty Davis McCain, director of the Southeast Region which has the majority of Bennett's 4500 living alumnae.

More information may be obtained from the Alumnae Office at Bennett.

HIGH POINT—The High Point Parks & Recreation Department will hold an Adult Basketball organizational meeting on Tuesday, November 11 at 7:30 P.M. This meeting will be held at the City Lake Gymnasium on the Greensboro-High Point Road.

Anyone wishing to enter a men's or women's team in this year's program is asked to attend. Leagues will be formed on a first-come first-served basis and only when warranted. Rules, regulations, officials and entry fees will be discussed at this meeting.

For further information, contact the Parks & Recreation Department at 883-7171, ext. 204.

HIGH POINT—The Fourth Street YWCA schedule for November 5th thru the 8th is as follows:

Daily -- Adult Day Care, 8 a.m., and After School Care, 3 p.m.

Wednesday -- Y-Teen Club, 6 p.m., and Open Recreation, 7 p.m.

Thursday -- Piano Lessons, 4 p.m.

Friday -- Open Recreation (Ages 5 - 12), 5 p.m., and Open Recreation (Ages 13 - 17), 7 p.m.

HIGH POINT—Registration for the High Point Parks & Recreation Department's Youth Basketball program (ages 8 - 16) will be held on Saturday, November 8 at Southside Recreation Center, Leonard St. Recreation Center and Oakview Recreation Center.

Eligible players living north of Lexington Avenue and east of N. Main St., or north of English Road and west of N. Main St. are to report to Oakview Center.

Those living south of Lexington Ave. and east of S. Main St. can register at Leonard Street Center.

Players living south of English Road and Burton Ave. and west of S. Main St. will be in the Southside Recreation Center leagues.

The Mites and Midgets (8 - 13) should report at 9 A.M. to their respective centers with the Juniors (14 - 16) following at 11 A.M.

receive complete coaching on basketball skills at all levels of competition," said Woodard.

YBA basketball will be more than just a game, however. All training materials for players, parents and coaches stress value development with an effort to improve the quality of human life.

While the program is being administered by local communities in all 50 states, NBA players will participate in training workshops, clinics, films and other events reflecting the goals of the program, according to Paul Silas of the Boston Celtics and president of the players' group.

"Team and individual sign-ups will be conducted in November, with practice sessions to begin almost immediately. League competition will begin in late December or early January depending on the number of teams we attain, with play to conclude at the end of March," said Woodard.

Sponsors for both teams and individual players will be needed at the Hayes-Taylor

YMCA.

Participation by commercial sponsors will allow boys and girls who are unable to afford the Player Kit Package Fee an opportunity to play.

A team registration fee of $90.00 has been established by the YMCA. That fee pays for the Team Kit consisting of nine high-quality uniforms including colored T-shirts with numbers, shorts, the players/parents/coaches manual and national membership card. Funds from community sponsors will be used to defray the team kit costs if necessary.

"No youngster who wants to play YBA basketball at the YMCA will be refused that opportunity if it is humanly possible to secure sponsor dollars," said Woodard.

"We at the Hayes-Taylor YMCA welcome the opportunity of joining with Paul Silas and the other NBA professional players in making this kind of game available to the children of Greensboro. Since basketball was invented by the YMCA, it's only natural that the 'Y' participate in its development and we think the new YBA program together with its development of sports skills will make YBA basketball a dynamic force for youth participation," said T. J. Scott, Hayes-Taylor YMCA, Executive Director.

Black Woman Named President Of Girl Scouts Of The U.S.A.

GREENSBORO—A Greensboro woman, Dr. Gloria D. Scott, faculty member at A&T University, today became the first black person to be elected president of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.

Dr. Scott was elected to head the organization which has over three million members during the 40th convention of the Girl Scout National Council in Washington. She succeeds Mrs. William McLeod Ittmann of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Dr. Scott has been a member of the national board since 1969 and in 1972 was elected first vice president. She is professor of education and director of institutional research at A&T and is currently on leave to the National Institute of Education as senior research assistant.

The new Scout leader has been involved in education at local, state, regional and in Canada, Mexico and the United States. She is the wife of Dr. Will Braxton Scott, department chairman of sociology and social service and professor of sociology at A&T. Dr. Scott received her bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees from Indiana University, where in 1964 she was recipient of the governor's award as outstanding student.

She is a member of the Southern Education Foundation's board of directors, the first woman to serve on that body since Eleanor Roosevelt. She also serves on the Greensboro Voluntary Action Board, the special study committee of North Carolina State Commission on Higher Education Facilities and the technical advisory committee to the N.C. State Board of Higher Education.

Dr. Scott has been involved in scouting since her youth in Houston, Texas.
