

A RIDDLE IN RHYMES

by
Rev. T.M. Walker

WHAT AM I?

outh
Find joy within me when they try.
In quest of values children learn about truth.
And how in life truth may apply.

WHAT AM I?

In and around me there is fun and good games
That the young can never forget.
Whether in town or county they think up names
For me that they won't regret.

When in honor of some person my name is accepted,
It arouses a good feeling of pride
Within those who were certain I would be erected
And later my doors would open wide.

WHAT AM I?

Boy meets girl and soon young love sprouts,
All up and down my hall ways.
But my goal in the world is that none be without Intellectual riches for coming days.

So let my bells ring, and let children come running
With bright minds and goals set high
To where voices sing, and minds go a hunting
For wells of wisdom that don't run dry.

WHAT AM I?

(The answer to last week's riddle is HYMN BOOK)
(The answer to this riddle will appear in the next issue of THE TRIBUNAL AID.)

The GGO Signs Others

GREENSBORO, N.C.—Great Britain's Maurice Bembridge is using up one of his Ryder Cup exemptions to take part in this year's $230,000 Greater Greensboro Open at Sedgefield.

The GGO Week is March 29 through April 4, and top prize money is $46,000.

Also coming to the Gate City that week are Greensboro's own, Joe Inman, Jr. and Leonard Thompson, Ray Floyd and Don Bies.

Bembridge, who was one of the British Ryder Cup team that fell to the Americans last summer, also played in the GGO last year and finished eighth, winning $6,650.

The little Englishman is annually one of the invitees to the Masters, the tournament following the GGO.

Inman, who gained his exemption the first year he was on the PGA tour in 1974, improved his position last year by moving up 20 places, to 41st.

The Wake Forest graduate took home $53,225.

Thompson, who was an Inman teammate at Wake, suffered a "down" year in 1975—as compared to '74 when he finished 15th on the money tree.

He won $48,748 to finish 48th.

Floyd ended a drought in 1975 that started in 1969

when he won the PGA Tournament. The Fayetteville native won the Kemper Open in Charlotte and finished the season with $103,627 and that helped him to make the elite circle of Ryder Cup competitors for the United States.

Bies was runneup in last week's San Diego-Andy Williams Open to J.C. Snead, who's already committed to the GGO.

SPORTS

FSU Opens Tennis, Golf Seasons

FAYETTEVILLE—Coach Page Saunders has announced a ten-game tennis slate for the Fayetteville State University Bronco netters. The FSU net-men will host Livingsone College March 12 to commence the tennis season. Fayetteville State University golf team will open their spring schedule at home February 25, with a Tri-Meet Tourney at Cypress Lakes Gold Course. Other teams in the tourney include Pembroke State University and Methodist College. According to FSU golf coach, Moses Walker, the team will open on the road March 13-14, in the Second Annual Edisto Golf Classic at Orangeburg, South Carolina.
