Black News is good news.

Moving to center stage on Soul Train this weekend are the Dramatics, Dorothy Moore and Leone Thomas. The Dramatics, whose polish and precision give meaning to their name, are the chief proponents of the Motor City Sound which they demonstrate on "I Was The Life of the Party" and "You're Fooling You." Past hits include "Me and Mrs. Jones," "Trying to Get Over Losing You" and

"Never Let You Go." Still in their early twenties, The Dramatics have been together over a dozen years. Members of the group are: Ron Banks, lead singer, L.J. Reynolds, Lenny Mayes, Willie Ford and Larry Demps.

Newcomer Dorothy Moore sings "Misty Blue," currently high on the charts, and "Here It Is." This Jackson, Miss. native is completing her first album.

Veteran jazz singer Leone Thomas introduces to Soul Train fans the hot, disco number, "Thank You Baby," which he wrote as the first release for his new recording company, the Doreon Music Co.

Soul Train is produced by Thomas Peters

Don Cornelius and sponsored by Johnson Products Co., leading manufacturer of hair care products and cosmetics for Blacks.

SADIE'S CORNER

(Tips To The Ladies)

Dear Sadie,
I have a very nice boyfriend and he has always given me very expensive jewelry. Last week for the first time he got very angry over a misunderstanding we had and asked for all his gifts back. I immediately gave them to him and told him to keep all the things I had given him. He returned to my house the same evening begging forgiveness and asking me to take back the gifts. Should I forgive him and take back the gifts?
Undecided

Dear Undecided:
I think it took a lot of courage for him to come back and to ask for forgiveness. I would advise you to forgive him and to take back the gifts. A lot of women have lost a good man because they were too foolish to have a big enough heart to forgive. You must remember that sometimes men act like little boys that have only grown tall and if you don't play their game to their rules they take their ball and go home.
