

A RIDDLE IN RHYMES

by
Rev. T.M. Walker

WHAT AM I?

I'm like a potter but more sophisticated,
Sitting at my scheduled task.
I sometimes bother with values syncopated,
Trying to give what the public asks.

A selection here, and another one there
But not all are for spinning try.
The next thing near to my busy desk chair
Is what I proclaim in a voice spry.

WHAT AM I?

In measured time I hasten through papers,
Timing everything to come out right.
On listening lines I can't cut any capers:
So I just make my talks polite.

Advertisers listen to hear my gift of gab
On their products priced low or high.
Words typed or written sent by mail or cab
Expect me to not pass them by.

WHAT AM I?

I keep something swirling between my adlibing
Which my job is mostly about.
Its to some disturbing as others keep living
And listening till my time is out.

When I'm off the job resting at home,
I throw aside coat and neck-tie
So as not to rob myself of any sweet tone
Of restful music from a station nigh.

WHAT AM I?

Evidences Of Love

By
JAMES R. WALKER, SR.

Have you ever had a feeling
There was something in your breast,
Clinging, even after kneeling,
Robbing sleep and peaceful rest?
Darling, that is love.

Love is annoying unexpressed
Causing much dissatisfaction;
Inner life remains distressed
Till our love is given action.
Darling, make love active.

Love is something none can hold
As a secret in the heart;
It makes known to young and old,
It has virtues to impart.
Darling, set love free.

What has life to offer, Dear
Richer than the viture, love?
Inner love keeps angels near,
Reproducing heav'n above.
Darling, nurture love.
