A RIDDLE IN RHYMES

by Rev. T.M. Walker

WHAT AM I?

I'm no cigar but I am held like one;
Held between pearls and in groove.
Useful as a car I am second to none
In places where I am used.

My handlers use me while they serve others,
And they are always willing to try
Never to abuse me among sister and brothers
Who on my services rely.

WHAT AM I?

I am concerned about warmness and cold,
And I stay where users place me.
I don't know loneliness while in a hole
Being held as quiet as can be.

Before placed in slits I am always clean,
Wiped off and made quite dry.
But after a brief sit I come out from between
Lips made more moist than the eye.

WHAT AM I?

I am an instrument, small and keen.
I'm almost needle-like in shape.
Sickness I can't prevent on the scene
Where attendants are in white capes.

I have no taste yet tongues lap over me,
While lips smack as if I'm pie.
I have a useful place and will always be
Near sick who are not ready to die.

WHAT AM I?
