

New Farmers Aid Orphanage At Oxford

Thanksgiving Gifts Total More Than $2,626; $626.65 In Cash

By S. B. SIMMONS.
The prayer of the North Carolina Colored Orphanage at Oxford, for more support on the part of the Negroes was truly answered this past Thanksgiving when the State Association of New Farmers of America went to the Oxford institution Wednesday morning of last week from all parts of the state with gifts of farm produce and clothing amounting to more than $2,000 plus $626.65 in cash.

John Allen Spaulding, a former student of the orphanage, later a successful member of New Farmers association, presented the gifts to T. A. Hamme, superintendent of the orphanage.

For the past 10 years this association of Negro vocational agricultural students has conducted special Thanksgiving programs for the benefit of needy persons in the various home communities. This year the 84 chapters set as their goal to raise co-operatively $500 worth of commodities and cash for the Oxford institution. The goal was exceeded five times. The major gifts were: canned goods, 2,834 quarts; sweet potatoes, 838 bushels; corn, 230 bushels; Irish potatoes, 36 bushels; field peas, 78 bushels; sugar, 72 pounds and a large number of assorted gifts. The largest gift came from the Chestnut school in Cumberland county amounting to $146.83 which was presented by Prof. Elbert Pettiford, a former national president of N. F. A. William Morgan, of Wakefield-Zebulon school, led all the boys in raising money, $28.00. The Hawley chapter of Scotland Neck under the leadership of Prof. G. J. Bussey turned in the largest amount of cash, $60.70.

Edward Francis, state president and freshman agricultural student of A. and T. college, presided over the program. He expressed thanks to the membership and friends who co-operated in making this a successful Thanksgiving venture. The Mary Potter chapter of Oxford, of which Prof. R. A. Lewis is the advisor, had charge of the opening ceremonies. Others on the program were Roy H. Thomas, state supervisor of vocational agriculture education; T. E. Brown, director of vocational education; R. E. Brown, assistant commissioner of the state board of welfare, all of Raleigh; C. G. Credle, superintendent Oxford city schools; Dr. E. E. Toney, chairman of board of directors; Rev. H. S. Davis, principal of Mary Potter school; and Mayor T. C. Jordan. Dr. Brown spoke of the state N. F. A. association as being one of the leading organizations for farm boys in the country. Officials of the orphanage and the city of Oxford told the New Farmers that their gift was the greatest ever presented by an organization and commended the youth for the fine helpful spirit shown.

RECIPES

Brown 1 pound ground pork about 1/2 green pepper and 1 large onion, chopped, in a little fat. Stir occasionally. Add 2 eight-ounce cans tomato sauce or use 1 1/2 cans condensed tomato soup and 1/2 cup water. Season well with salt and pepper. Simmer 1 1/2 hours. American cheese. Cook 1 package noodles in boiling salted water until tender. Mix the meat sauce with the noodles. Add half of the cheese. Taste and reseason. Pour into one casserole. Cover, baking for 30 minutes. If the cheese over top is not quite browned, add a little water. Bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes longer.

New Farmers of America Present Valuable Gift To Negro Orphanage

Thanksgiving day was a happy occasion for the North Carolina Colored Orphanage at Oxford, for on that day, as the scenes pictured here show, the State Association of New Farmers of America presented to the institution donations of farm produce and clothing worth more than $2,000 and $626.65 in cash.

At the top left is a view of the canned goods and other commodities just after being taken to the orphanage as a contribution from the 84 state chapters of the New Farmers, an organization of Negro youth. At the top right is John Allen Spaulding, himself a former student at the orphanage and now a successful member of the New Farmer association, who presented the gifts to T. A. Hamme, superintendent of the orphanage. Below at left is a truck load of the produce from the Upchurch chapter at Raeford. This is a typical illustration of the way the cars and trucks and trailers arrived at the orphanage in Oxford. At the lower right, Willie Morgan, of the Wakefield-Zebulon chapter, is turning over the $55 in cash which his chapter raised for the orphanage. Willie led the 3,000 New Farmer boys by raising $28.56 himself. Others in the group, reading left to right, are Superintendent Hamme; S. B. Simmons, supervisor of vocational agriculture in Negro schools; J. T. Locke, teacher of vocational agriculture at Zebulon; Willie Morgan, and Roy H. Thomas, state supervisor of vocational agriculture.

Men's Day Service Sunday, Dec. 7th

The Providence Baptist church will hold its annual Men's Day service Sunday, morning, December 7, at 11 o'clock, according to Mr. W. J. Smith, vice president of the Y. and O. Men's Club, acting in the place of the president, Mr. S. A. Johnson, who is out of the city.

Mr. L. R. Russell, prominent business man and the very efficient president of the Greensboro Negro Business League, will be the guest speaker. Mr. Russell, who is very interested in civic and religious affairs of Greensboro, has been chosen for his subject, "Men's Place in the Church." Music for the occasion will be rendered by a male choir of fifteen voices, trained and directed by Mr. F. Nathaniel Gatlin, director of instrumental music at Bennett College.

Providence Baptist Church is one of the oldest in the city and boasts of its program for the past nine years under the leadership of Rev. J. W. Tynes, pastor. Every one who worships there finds it a place of reverence where a clean atmosphere of wholesome worship prevails at all times.

The men of the church invite two male members from each church to worship with the membership of the church and all others who will find it convenient to worship at Providence.

"Timely Talks" to Be Broadcast

"Timely Talks," second in a series of week-day programs originating on the campus of Bennett College, will go on the air at 3:15 this afternoon, through the facilities of Station WBIG. Tuesday of this week timely talk was discussed on "Why Public Forums," by John G. Turner of the Social Science Division of the college.

The initial program of the Bennett College-on-the-Air series was given Monday afternoon by Miss Myrtle Thompson, head of the Bennett Nursery School, who talked on problems of child behavior, and who will continue to present a weekly quarter-hour talk entitled "For Children's Sake." Her program will come over the air each Monday at 3:30 p. m.

The "Timely Talks" series from Bennett will be given each Tuesday afternoon from 3:15 to 3:30, and will be devoted to a discussion of current social and economic problems. They are to be conducted by Mr. Turner and by Albert N. Whiting, also an instructor in the Division of Social Sciences at the college.

Parent Council Plans For Christmas Party

The Parent Council Committee of the Bennett College Nursery School met last week to perfect plans for the Christmas party which it will sponsor this month for undersprivileged Negro children in Greensboro. Miss Myrtle Thompson, head of the Nursery School, reported that committees had been appointed also to work on the annual toy project of the school.

Marjorie DeLoach of the University of North Carolina addressed the students and faculty of Bennett at the weekly meeting on contemporary affairs. She talked on the condition of women in present-day Russia.

She spoke in British West Indies. Her report also was given.

Reports of Red Cross Meeting

Activities for November were reported at the session of the board of directors of Greensboro chapter, American Red Cross, Friday afternoon at the chapter house.

Miss Hattie Ashburn, head of home service department, reported on help given to men in the armed forces, noting 87 cases of assistance during the month. Mrs. Curtis Stone, chairman of volunteer service, reported on development of the volunteer nurses aid corps under direction of Mrs. Kenneth P. Maddox. Mrs. Stone also reported on training courses for the motor corps.

Mrs. W. H. Sullivan reported for Mrs. Baxter Sellers, chairman of knitting. Mrs. Sullivan noted that sewing, knitting and surgical dressing production is progressing well. L. C. Atkinson, chapter chairman, told of the part of Red Cross in civilian protection plans, and Floyd Hugh Craft, roll call chairman, reported on progress of that activity.
