

FUTURE OUTLOOK

VOL. I. NO. 26

GREENSBORO, N. C., SATURDAY, JUNE 6, 1942.

PRICE: 5c

200 Persons Gather To See These Fine Officers

A. and T. College's R. O. T. C., under the command of Capt. Robert Lee Campbell, D. S. C., won the applause of some 200 persons who had gathered on the front lawn of the campus to witness a competitive and exhibition drill by the battalion last week.

The first place in the drills was taken by Headquarters Company, under the command of Cadet Lieut. Jethro Hooper. The first platoon of Company C, commanded by Cadet Lieut. John Johnson, ranked second. The first and second platoons of Company D, under the command of Cadet Lieuts. Arthur Gooden and Hubert Doub, respectively, tied for third place.

The battalion was under the direct command of Cadet 1st Lieut. Col. Lewis Still. The judges were Lieut. John Withers, the first A. and T. graduate to become a commissioned officer in the present war; Francis Mebane, senior; O. C. Fisher, veteran of the first world war; and Samuel Littlejohn and Jesse Bagley, former cadets. Special music was furnished by the college band under direction of Prof. Bernard Lee Mason.

Dett and Choir In Radio Broadcast

Dr. NATHANIEL DETT.

A new wartime anthem, "The Soul of America Defend," by Dr. R. Nathaniel Dett, was heard over the air for the first time last Sunday morning, when the Bennett College Choir, of which Dr. Dett is founder and director, appeared in a coast to coast broadcast over the NBC network. The broadcast was one of the series "Music and American Youth," presented each Sunday by the Music Educators National Conference.

With brief interpretations by Dr. Dett, the program showed the evolution of characteristic Negro music from its primitive state to those forms which are regarded as classical. It included spirituals and several original compositions by Dr. Dett showing the incorporation of Negro folk melodies and rhythms into complete art forms such as the anthem.

Soloists on the broadcast were Miss Lottie McCoy, a senior, of Columbus, Ohio; Miss Vassar Rattle, a sophomore, of New York city, and Miss Carol Lynn Booker, a freshman, of Youngstown, Ohio.

Dental Society To Meet In Durham

The 55th annual session of the Old North State Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Society and the 7th annual clinic of the division of co-operation and race relations will meet in Durham, N. C., June 2, 3 and 4, 1942.

There will be six well-prepared

A. AND T. OFFICERS OF THE R. O. T. C.

These officers of the R. O. T. C. at A. and T. College, Greensboro, N. C., played a large part in the Competitive and Exhibition Drill held at A. and T. College last Monday (May 25). The R.

O. T. C. unit at A. and T. is under the direction of Capt. Robert Lee Campbell, D. S. C.

State Naval Recruiters To Enlist Negroes

The navy department has notified the navy recruiting service in North Carolina that beginning June 1 negroes will be enlisted as apprentice seamen in the naval reserve for general service.

"Since World War I, negroes have been able to enlist in the navy only as mess attendants third class for duty in the messman branch of naval service," said Lieut. C. B. Neely, officer in charge of navy recruiting in the state. "The change of policy allowing members of the negro race to enlist for general service opens a wide field of opportunities for American negroes in the navy."

To be eligible for enlistment, a negro must be able to read and write, pass the standard physical examination for class V-6, naval reserve, and submit to a regular blood test. The age limits are 17 to 49 and enlistments will be made as apprentice seamen only.

Men accepted will be transferred to the naval training station at Great Lakes, Ill., for recruit training. After completion of the preliminary training, the negroes will be assigned to duties in general service with the United States naval forces over the world.

Enlistment of negroes will be accepted at Navy Recruiting Station at Raleigh, Asheville, Greensboro, Charlotte, Salisbury, New Bern and Wilmington.

Army officers to speak on war inquiries and how they should be handled by civilian physicians.

Among the physicians and surgeons are Dr. F. E. Davis, Dr. G. H. Evans, Dr. J. B. McLaughlin, Dr. C. O. Stewart. Among the dentists are Dr. B. W. Barnes, Dr. W. M. Jenkins, Dr. W. L. Miller and Dr. George C. Stimpkins.

NAME FOR JAPS.

John Marquand, author of the Moto series, published by Little, Brown and company, report that American troops refer to the Japanese as "Mr. Moto" and particularly they refer to the Japanese planes as "Mr. Moto."

Dr. MacLean Commencement Speaker At College

Fair Employment Chairman Speaks

Dr. Malcolm S. MacLean, president of Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., and chairman of the President's committee on fair employment practice, will deliver the commencement address at A. and T. College on Monday June 1, at 7 p. m. in Richard B. Harrison auditorium. Dr. John L. S. Holloman, president of the Washington Baptist Seminary, Washington, D. C., delivered the baccalaureate sermon Sunday, May 31, at 11 a. m.

Dr. MacLean, who took his bachelor's degree at the University of Michigan in 1916 and his doctorate at the University of Minnesota in 1929, is a prominent figure in the field of progressive education administration. National attention was focused on him when, as Director of the General College of the University of Minnesota, he introduced new procedures in research, curriculum and student counseling. The General College, started as an experiment in progressive education in 1932, when Dr. MacLean was made director, became known as one of the finest institutions in the country by the spring of 1940, when he left to go to Hampton. He is at present chairman of such groups as the National Committee on General Education and the North Central Association Committee on General Education.

Dr. Holloman graduated from Waters Normal Institute, now Waters Training School, Winton, N. C., and was a student at Virginia Union University from 1906 to 1909. At one time a rural pastor in North Carolina and a teacher at Waters Normal, he has been pastor of the Second Baptist Church, Washington, since 1917, and president of Washington Baptist Seminary since 1928. He has been editor of the Lott Carey Herald since 1934. A member of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity, he took his Doctor of Divinity from Virginia Union University in 1937.

Europeans, Chinese Must Swear Allegiance

Japanese military officials in the Netherlands East Indies have demanded that all Europeans, Chinese and other nationals resident in those islands swear allegiance to Japan, according to the official radio at Ankara in neutral Turkey, which still has diplomatic representatives in Japan.

The Turkish spokesman said: "In this war more than in any other the rights of individuals and nations have been ignored and trampled down, but rights of individuals and nations have been ignored and trampled down but never before did we hear of such a demand by any power from conquered peoples. It appears that the Japanese have threatened that if any individual refuses to swear fidelity to Japan, he or she will lose all his or her rights, in other words, will not be able to earn a living. This is indeed an unheard of crime."

Bennett Students Pick New Officers

Mary Lou Hayes, of Greensboro, has been elected president of the City Students group at Bennett College for the year 1942-43. It was announced at the college Tuesday, May 26. A member of the sophomore class, she is a graduate of Dudley High School and is majoring in home economics at Bennett.

Other recently elected officers for the group are Jane Womble, vice president; Lucille Hinnant, secretary; Nancy Young, assistant secretary; Mildred Herring, treasurer; Helen Frazier, representative to the student senate; Elvira Galloway, representative; Vivian Hayes and Dorothy Meyers, social committee chairmen; Catherine Stephens, sergeant-at-arms.

A series of commencement events will begin on Friday, May 29 and will last through June 1.

DRY FRUITS, VEGETABLES.

Drying fruits and vegetables at home is an old-fashioned practice now being revived to meet war conditions, says Miss Ruby Sholz, food conservationist of State college.

Perry Brown Speaker At Dedication

Local Funeral Director Speaks

"Home to most mankind is where life begins," declared Perry Brown, local funeral director, who was the principal speaker for the formal dedication of the Omega beautification project at A. and T. College last week.

The project, which was sponsored by the Mu Psi chapter of Omega Psi fraternity, was concerned with the beautification of the ground in front of Murphy Hall, the college dining hall. Emmett George, a student of the department of horticulture and co-ordinator of the idea, presented the project to President F. D. Bluford, who represented the college.

President Bluford commended the fraternity for its excellent work and expressed the hope that other student organizations would follow its example. He revealed his pleasure with a plan which the Omegas presented him, which involved the establishing of a sunken garden in front of Holland Hall next year.

Mr. Brown, who spoke on "The Beauty of Home, Democracy and College," said that home "serves as an anchor for life. In its environment arise early experiences in human relationships. Appreciation of human personality grows. Tolerance and mutual helpfulness are born. Ideals come into being and creative effort obtains encouragement. Home nurtures body, mind and spirit."

Speaking to the fraternity, Mr. Brown said, "I congratulate you men who believe that men of like attainment and of the same ideals of fellowship and manhood should bind together in order to approach these ideals. Your achievement is a significant beauty to the college we love so well."

Miss Watkins and Picture of Mother

MISS EDNA WATKINS.

Miss Edna A. Watkins, senior, who is a student of the A. and T. College art department, Greensboro, is shown with one of her works, an oil portrait of her mother, Miss Watkins, whose home is in Newport News, Va. is considered by her instructor, Prof. H. Clinton Taylor, as one of his exemplary students. (Photo by C. R. A. Campbell.)