

Missionaries Are Taken By Japanese

Three Catholic missionaries on the Solomon Islands were taken away by Japanese forces, the Berlin radio revealed.

In an attempt to explain the Japanese action to the Christian world, Radio Berlin said, "The event is regarded as the normal, if not agreeable consequence of war."

"The present whereabouts of the aforementioned missionaries is not known so far, but it is believed that they were taken to Japan. There are about 25,000 Catholics on the islands, which have 22 churches and 500 chapels, as well as hospitals, orphanages and homes for the aged."

The missionaries were identified as "the Apostolic Vivar and two missionaries, both United States citizens."

May Queen At Maco Beauty College

In the midst of an indoor flower garden, Miss Louise Chavis, of Siler City, 1942 May queen of the Maco Beauty College, was entertained with a semi-formal dance, last Wednesday night, May 20.

During intermission, Miss Chavis was presented her crown and magic wand by Mrs. Hortense Shoffner, May queen of 1942, who was introduced by Mrs. T. O. Whitfield, matron of the Maco Beauty college. Ice cream, cake, peanuts and mints were served to the guests and members of the student body by members of the faculty.

The runner-up for May queen was Miss Lucy Villines, of Hurdle Mills. May queen's attendants were: Mrs. Julia Lee, Greensboro; Miss Van Lee Reddick, Williamston; Miss Eula Love, Yanceyville; Mrs. Myrtle Bennett, Reidsville; Mrs. Edna Swindell, Greensboro; Miss Elizabeth Lee, Lexington.

May queen is an annual affair among the extra curricular activities of the beauty college. It is held each year on May 20, which is the birthday of the deceased president of the institution. Each member of the student body sells votes for the crown, and the one selling the highest amount of votes is crowned May queen.

Alumni President Speaks

Mrs. Priscilla Barnes spoke to the student body of Maco Beauty college during their shop technique period Tuesday, May 26. Mrs. Barnes spoke of her experiences since finishing and stated that "I received the basic principals of shop technique while in school but did not really appreciate its worth; but now since facing these principals' daily, I now appreciate the shop technique period offered me in school. There is no better way of learning than through experience."

Modern Redingote

THE REDINGOTE, with its trim, clean-cut lines and silhouette is always a delight and a harbinger of spring. This one is of pale bluish gray lightweight woolen and is made with a bolero-like line accentuated by a wide fold. The midriff is slim, closing with a button at the waist. Another fold at the hipline conceals two pockets. The frock is of brown crepe with a blue floral print. It has a jabot that is worn outside the redingote.

A bomber plane and a torpedo boat cost the same—$250,000.

Board of Trustees Of A. and T. In Session

Charles A. Hines Vice Chairman

The board of trustees of A. and T. College had its annual meeting at the college on Tuesday, May 19. In the absence of Dr. M. C. S. Noble, Charles A. Hines served as vice chairman.

Dr. Noble, because of illness, was absent for the first time in his 43 years as member of the board. The board took note of his illness and passed a resolution, wishing for him a speedy recovery.

The enrollment of the year was given as 1,020 students, the largest in the history of the institution, in the report of President F. D. Bluford.

The president mentioned the accelerated program which enables a student to complete the regular five-year course in three years. He also told the board of the progress that the college is making in aviation.

The board was also told that of 50 institutions applying for the four R. O. T. C. units which were recently established in Negro colleges, A. and T. was successful in obtaining one of them. The president emphasized the fact that the establishment of the R. O. T. C. in Negro colleges was not an emergency measure but a part of the permanent training program of the army, which will train Negro officers for service in various branches of the armed forces, in peace time as well as in war time.

The following members of the board were present: Charles A. Hines, of Greensboro; Julian Price, of Greensboro; Maj. L. P. McLendon, Greensboro; Dr. J. N. McAnally, of High Point; W. R. Vaughan, Henderson; S. P. Collier, Winston-Salem; O. F. Crowson, Burlington; G. Foster Hankins, Lexington and L. S. Covington, Rockingham.
