Bennett College Sponsors Homemaking Institute

Plans were completed this week for the 17th annual Home-Making Institute beginning Monday, March 15 and extending to Sunday, March 21. Its theme is: "Victory Through Home Co-operation."

The Bennett College home economics department in co-operation with the social sciences division, sponsors of the institute, have included several new features in the program which will extend the scope of the institute to a wider community.

Formerly each session of the institute has been held on the Bennett campus and the program had as their main attraction some widely known authority who delivered an address.

In contrast the institute this year will move directly to the community for its sessions. A meeting will be held in four sections of the city, namely, Shiloh Baptist Church, Warnersville; East White Oak School, East White Oak; Browning Chapel, Jonesboro, and Charles Moore School, Market Street area.

Chairman of the communities are: Warnersville—Rev. J. T. Hairston, general chairman; Mrs. L. P. Dyson, chairman community program; Mrs. F. L. Pookrum, community exhibit. Market Street Area—Rev. W. C. Cleland, general chairman; Mrs. Florence Austin, community program; Mrs. N. E. Hargett, community exhibit. East White Oak—Mrs. P. B. Bynum, community chairman. Jonesboro—Mrs. A. B. Compton, general chairman; Mrs. Sadie Evans and Mrs. Mary Whitis, co-chairmen community exhibit.

Each community chose an area of emphasis for their session but the program is co-related so that they will receive information on the areas of emphasis in the other communities.

These areas of emphasis are: Victory gardens, clothing conservation, point rationing, nutrition and consumer education.

Groups of students from the class in Community Organization worked with the community committees assisting in the planning for the institute.

The institute will use such methods as skits, motion pictures, quiz programs, demonstrations and exhibits, instead of addresses as in previous years.

Mothers of sons or daughters in the armed service will be honored at the final vespers in Annie Merner Pfeiffer Chapel Sunday, March 21 at 4 p. m. Each mother will receive a certificate of honor, and be placed on the Bennett College Honor Roll of War Mothers.

Miss Nannie Burroughs of Washington, D. C., nationally known educator and secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary of the National Baptist Convention.

All names for the honor roll must be sent to Mr. Albert Whiting at Bennett College.

NEGRO WOMEN OF MEBANE ORGANIZE VICTORY KNIT CLUB

The Negro women of Mebane have organized a Victory knitting club which meets every Tuesday night at home of Mrs. Emma Bean and which is turning out a quantity of garments for the men in the armed forces. Mrs. Louise R. Lorimer, executive secretary of the Burlington chapter of the American Red Cross, said today.

Mrs. Irma Thompson, chairman of the knitting club and is teaching the women how to knit. Alice Murray is in charge of yarn distribution, Mrs. Lorimer said.

The work is being done under the supervision of the Mebane Red Cross chapter, the executive secretary stated.

J. F. Johnson, Editor of "The Future Outlook" is 86 years old March 12.

When asked what he thought of conditions he said: "The Future Outlook is Bright."

PRESIDENT DAVID D. JONES, MISS BETTY WADE

Miss Betty Frank Wade receives congratulations from President David D. Jones of Bennett College, Greensboro, N. C. upon her election as president of the student body. She succeeds Miss Helene Jacobs of Bridgeport, Conn., who graduated at the end of the first semester and entered the Atlanta School of Social Work. Miss Wade is an honor student, member of the orchestra and other student organizations. She is a graduate of Atkins High School, Winston-Salem, N. C. and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wade of that city.

ONE-MAN CAST STAGES PLAY AT IMMANUEL LUTHERAN COLLEGE

Jack Rank, a great American artist, dramatist and playwright, presented William Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice" in the Immanuel Lutheran College auditorium on Tuesday, evening, March 2. Mr. Rank, appearing in the final lyceum number of the season, was introduced by Dr. H. Nau, president of the college.

Mr. Rank began by relating the story, in order that the audience could properly understand the play. Then he presented the entire play himself, portraying all the characters, both male as well as female, in gorgeous, authentic costumes with affective dramatization.

His complete program of entertainment combined with unusual artistry held his audience spell-bound. With his characterization, ingenious costume changes and phenomenal voice, he swung his audience from the tragic to the ridiculous, from the romantic to the fantastic, with his stream-lined Shakespearean immortal classic of the seventeenth century.

The playwright left no stone unturned as he held the audience in a daze, while for the first time the presiding presence of the moral sense and a fundamental seriousness betrayed itself in the deeper and more religious harmonies of the verse.

President Jones Announces New Appointments To Bennett Faculty

President David D. Jones of Bennett College announced recently the addition to the college staff of A. A. Morisey, director of publicity; Miss Beatrice Hargrove, instructor in biological sciences; Mrs. Emma Wallace and Mrs. J. W. Wells, temporary appointments in the personnel field as director of dormitories; Mrs. Lawrence Rogers, director of student work; and the return of Mrs. Blanche R. Raiford for the second semester after a leave of absence.

Mr. Morisey was for five years field representative for the Norfolk Journal and Guide. He was formerly teacher and coach at the Darden High school in Wilson, N. C. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Morisey of Raleigh. He attended St. Augustine's College, graduated from Shaw University, and is a member of the Omega Psi Phi fraternity.

Associated in the public relations program of the college is P. A. Taylor who handles the daily radio program and other public contacts of the institution.

About 300 war plants in the United States help to produce 45,000 different parts in a heavy bomber and the 40,000 parts in every tank.

STAR SALESMAN

The Future Outlook ran a contest among the paper salesmen, and little Miss Billy Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Shaw was crowned queen of the paper salesmen. She sells 25 to 30 papers per week, and is only 9 years of age. Billy attends the J. F. Gunn school, and is fifth grader. Little Miss Shaw is a most attractive little girl and makes friends with everyone she meets. Bill is a short name for Ailine, she has two brothers and sisters and Bill is the baby of the family and the community.

This in one of our own boys Robert (Bobbie) Walter McNair, now stationed with the Navy Band in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. Mr. McNair is the son of Mr. Walter McNair, who is working in the Department of General Accounting, Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Dorothy McNair, a teacher in the Primary Department of Washington Street school this city. Young Mr. McNair completed his second year of college at A and T. College, here before he left. He was one of the five young men chosen from this city to take this course. All reports are to the effect that he is doing well.
