A. & T. Has Large Freshmen Enrollment Night Class Innovation

In spite of the war, the Freshman Class that has just enrolled at A. and T. college is one of the largest in the history of the institution. The count is not quite complete yet, but it looks as if it will be close to last year's mark. It is expected that there will be close to three hundred and fifty Freshmen to enroll for the first quarter's work.

This week's orientation activities have been coming off nicely. Placement tests, teas, and other welcoming activities have crowded the calendar. Sunday there will be the first Sunday School at 10 a. m. and vesper services at 3:30 in the afternoon.

In-service teachers of Greensboro and vicinity will be interested to know that there are several classes scheduled at night. They will do well to come over during the first part of the week and get a schedule to see if there are some courses that may contribute towards their certificate or degree.

Congregational Church To Hold Special Services

The First Congregational church, will hold two services Sunday, September 19th, dedicated to women. The program under the sponsorship of the Women's Hour and Foreign Missionary Societies will be held at eleven a. m. and 3 p. m. Rev. D. G. Speller, pastor of the church will bring the message of the morning hour and Mrs. G. J. Thomas, president of the N. C. State Missionary Union will speak at 3 o'clock. Special music will be furnished by a choir of 25 voices composed of women.

The women of the First Congregational church extend to every woman in the city an invitation to the program. Especially do we extend to the missionary societies of all churches the invitation to be present with us at 3 p. m.

Bennett College Marshalls

The simple beauty and reverence of weekly vespers in Annie Merner Pfeiffer Chapel at Bennett College is enhanced by the charm of these young ladies who serve as marshalls. They begin their services Sunday September 26 when President Benjamin Mays of Morehouse College will speak.

Greensboro Fair Features Many Negro Farm Exhibits

"Live at home" farm exhibits will feature the showings of Negro citizens of Guilford and surrounding counties at the annual Greensboro Victory fair opening Sunday afternoon, October 3, and continuing through Saturday, October 9.

Prof. C. E. Dean is superintendent in charge of Negro exhibits with B. H. Hall, Negro farm demonstration agent, associated with him. Mrs. Rosa Taylor Winchester is superintendent of the women's department.

Live stock products will lead in the scoring or awarding of points for the prizes, with cash crops, garden products, corn, hay, small grains, forest products, fruits and other items following. Canned vegetables have a top point award of 20 points with fruits second with 14. Dried fruits and vegetables come next with 11 points.

Norman Y. Chambliss, manager, and Mrs. Clyde Kendall, assistant manager, promise an even better fair than usual this year. The World of Mirth Shows, offering the "world's finest midway"; the "Victory Revue" staged and presented by George Hamid twice daily, afternoon and evening, in front of the grandstand; the Cavalcade of Thrills Sunday and Thursday afternoons presenting dare devil stunts galore without the use of either gasoline or rubber; free days for school children with the Negro children having their "day" Thursday, these are among the features.

A total of $3,000 in premiums is offered by the fair management to farmers of Greensboro and adjacent counties for exhibits depicting the growing importance of food in war.

ANNOUNCE WEDDING

Mr. Williamson of Burlington, and Mrs. Retta Graves of Greensboro were united in marriage at the Baptist church in Burlington, Sunday night, September 12. Many of their Greensboro friends were present.

Some people are their worst enemy — and love their enemies. Father better start brushing up on his education. The kids are having homework again.

Methodist Seek $10,000 For Bennett

Baltimore, Md. — A "strenuous effort" to reach the endowment goal of $10,000 for Bennett College by Founder's Day, December 14, was announced here recently by Bishop Alexander P. Shaw, Resident Bishop, Baltimore Area, Methodist Church.

The decision to launch the Endowment Rally was made at a recent meeting of district superintendents, ministers, and lay leaders of the North Carolina Conference.

$3,000 of the sum has already been raised in the conference thus leaving a balance of $7,000 to be secured through the current effort.

The first big roll call in the drive will be made at the annual conference in Charlotte, N. C. Friday October 29, at 11 a. m.

War stamp books have been issued to the various churches where clubs will be organized to raise $18.75 or one $25 bond.

The pastor, lay leader, and president of the Woman's Society for Christian Service in each church comprise the local committees for the drive.
