Governor Broughton Speaks N. F. of A. Presentation

By C. A. IRVIN.

As main speaker, Gov. J. Melville Broughton will share the Christmas cheer of the Colored orphanage, Oxford, Sunday at 2 o'clock, when the North Carolina Association of New Farmers of America, an organization of Negro farm boys will present the institution with $3,500 worth of war bonds.

From his office at A. and T. college, S. B. Simmons, state advisor for the association, stated today, that this contribution is an effort on the part of the 89 chapters of the organization in North Carolina to make the approaching yuletide season one of the happiest for the children in the history of the institution's existence.

The New Farmers annual pilgrimage to the school, dates back to 1941 when the association donated $3,000 in foodstuff.

As a part of the same program Lt. Col. Wendell T. Dericks, commanding officer, 930th field artillery, Camp Butler, will present the orphanage with a cash donation representing the proceeds from the football game played between the 930th field artillery and A. and T. college, in Durham, December 4.

Other highlights of the program will be the presentation of H. O. Sargent, plaque to Lee Allen Yates of Bricks, for having conducted the most outstanding farm program of farmers NFA members in the United States during 1943. Prof. K. A. Williams of Winfall, will present a $25 war bond to each of the Negro teachers of vocational agriculture in North Carolina who are now serving in the armed forces. The awards will be made to the following: Harvey M. Hargraves, Chadwin; H. Jones, a Fayetteville; Richard Jones, Ellerbe; Richard Bradanax, Williamston; Glenn Rankins, Landis, and Earl Simmons.

All are graduates of the A. and T. college, Greensboro, school of agriculture.

Mrs. W. T. Bost, commissioner of the state welfare department, will introduce the governor. Dr. C. C. Spaulding, president of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance company, and honorary member of the national organization of New Farmers of America, will represent the adult citizens of the state. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the children of the orphanage. Superintendent T. A. Hamme will preside. E. E. Toney, chairman of the orphanage board of trustees, will represent the citizens of Oxford and the board of trustees.

BUSINESS LEAGUE

The Greensboro Negro Business League presents Monday evening, December 20, a fellowship dinner in the Hayes-Taylor Y. M. C. A. at 8 p. m.

It is the hope of the sponsors to bring about closer fellowship between business men of these cities.

Come prepared to offer suggestions for the promotion of better business.

Prominent men from Durham, Winston-Salem, High Point and Burlington will be honored guests.

L. R. Russell, president, will preside.

Mrs. Daisy Shaw and daughters, were visitors in Durham last week.

YMCA Plans Fourth Anniversary Observance

The Hayes-Taylor Memorial YMCA is now making plans to celebrate its fourth anniversary from January 9 to January 16. A full program is being planned for the entire week and the general public is invited to attend each event.

Two outstanding speakers have been secured for Sundays anuary 9 and 16th and there will be special music for each of these days.

The Hayes-Taylor Memorial Y MCA opened its doors on Sunday afternoon, December 31, 1939, and ever since that time the building has certainly served its purpose—serving hundreds of citizens throughout the city and nation. Its program has been far reaching in scope. Hundreds of men in service have found the YMCA a "home away from home" and they have enjoyed their dormitory accommodations. The membership has grown from 350 to more than one thousand men and boys. The boys' department program has steadily increased until it was found necessary to employ a full-time trained secretary. The program for men and young men has increased its effectiveness and many substantial citizens and homes have been established through the far-reaching, character-building program of the YMCA.

The co-ed program for the teenage youth is rapidly making vast strides and its program on vocational guidance and religious training has been fruitful. The Woman's Auxiliary has steadily increased in membership and they have done much at the 'Y' to create that feeling of home. The 'Y' has served thousands of members of civic groups by providing club room facilities to them. The well-equipped kitchen has made possible the serving of many banquets and socials.

The membership campaign held last spring was the greatest in the history of Hayes-Taylor 'Y' and the largest amount of cash ever secured in any colored 'Y' in the state. With a goal of $2500.00 and 600 members the campaigners brought in after two weeks of intensive work $3100.00 cash and 802 members.

During 1944 more than 1300 Y MCAs throughout the world will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association and especially the birthday on June 8, Hayes-Taylor YMCA will celebrate its fifth year of service in Greensboro—hence 1944 will be a great year for this great character-building movement.

Because of the present overcrowded condition at the building there is need for a boys department, additional dormitory rooms, and a physical plant. The latter would help greatly in the full development of our boys—physically, mentally and spiritually, and thus help materially in combating the rising trends toward delinquency.

Mrs. Katie Hawkins, of Richmond, Va., is spending a few days with her sister and relatives, Mrs. Maggie Wagstaff.

Mrs. J. U. Morrison spent the week-end in Carthage with her sister, Miss V. O. Fuller.

Associations Of Colleges And Secondary Schools Hold Session

BISHOP JONES

AT ST. MATTHEWS METHODIST CHURCH SUNDAY AT 11 A. M.

Bishop Robert E. Jones, Bishop of the New Orleans and Columbus areas will be the morning speaker at St. Matthews Methodist Church.

Every member and friend of the church is urged to be present to hear Bishop Jones, one of the far-visioned Bishops of Methodism.

Methodist College Day will be observed also Sunday at St. Matthews and all over the North Carolina Conference, the results of this financial effort will be reported Tuesday, December 21st at 11 o'clock A. M. at Bennett College. Every dollar St. Matthews church raises will go to our local college, Bennett, which was organized in this historic church, therefore every member of the church and friends of the college should help at this time in producing good will and increased revenue for our college, remembering that a gift to education is an investment in the America of tomorrow.

USHER UNION

The Guilford County Interdenomination usher union will hold its regular monthly meeting Sunday, December 19 at 3 p.m. at High Street Methodist church. The junior ushers of that church will render a Christmas program. Music will be under the direction of Mr. A. M. Leach and Miss Rhucell Alexander. Special reports will be made from all the churches on the progress of their local board, said Mr. Arthur Grump, president.

Miss Mae Alice Steele and Mrs. Annelle Robinson are spending the week-end in Charlotte, where they will be the guest of Mrs. Myrtle Tillman.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Holt are the proud parents of a fine son.

A program for higher education for Negroes that would more nearly meet their needs than adhere to the Supreme court ruling on separate but equal educational facilities was advocated by Dr. George A. Works, dean emeritus of the University of Chicago, speaking before 150 members of the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools for Negroes in their tenth annual session at Bennett College Thursday, December 9.

Such a program Dr. Works suggested should provide for higher education in each state through (1) development of a strong liberal education at the undergraduate level; (2) undergraduate instruction in agriculture and home economics; (3) professional education for teachers to meet certification requirements; and (4) undergraduates and graduate instruction in areas where there is opportunity for Negroes and where the numbers seeking it are large enough to make possible a high quality with a reasonable per capita for current expenses.

Dr. Works advocated also scholarships and institutional agreements where the number involved does not justify giving the work in a state institution and scholarships although the state may or may not offer instruction in the fields.

These devices the distinguished educator declared, are equally applicable to whites and should be utilized more fully in the future.

Continuing the theme of the meeting, "The Present and Post War Responsibilities of Negro Colleges and Secondary Schools" Dr. Carson Ryan of the University of North Carolina asserted that, "The south is in the dilemma between the things we know ought to do in terms of the need and the effort to maintain conventional standards.

He advocated that schools and colleges make available staffs and materials, permit flexibility in courses and credits, furnish guidance to in-service teachers, and conduct special studies and experiments significant to curricula programs.

Dr. Dabney S. Lancaster, state superintendent of instruction, state of Virginia, foresaw the day when schools must operate on a months' basis, and have facilities adequate and equal with no regard to race or religion.

Dr. Channing Tobias, senior secretary for colored work, national YMCA, stated that educators must recognize that Negro students while getting an education in exclusively Negro schools cherish the interracial ideal with which they can meet the liberal-minded white students who are working for the abolition of the double standard in education.

He praised the educators who he described as, "Maintaining the
