

FUTURE OUTLOOK

VOL. 6, NO. 37

GREENSBORO, N. C., SATURDAY, AUGUST 9, 1947

PRICE: 5 CENTS

THE 8TH ANNUAL ALL-STAR GAME TO BE PLAYED SUNDAY

JACKSONVILLE EAGLES PITCHING STAFF

T. TURNER A. RAMSEY E. RICHBURG A. TURNER SPOON CARTER

The annually debated question of whether a team of diamond stars playing together for the first time can defeat an original team of top performers comes to the fore here again Sunday, August 10, when the 8th Annual South's Original All-Star game is played at Memorial Stadium.

Promoter A. J. Hammonds has secured the services of the Jacksonville Eagles, a top team of the Negro Southern League, to face the team of selected all-stars in the event.

The outcome of the game is as always a much debated subject among baseball fans who, during the eight years, have seen all-star teams win and lose the contest. Last season some 10,000 fans saw one of the closest games when the all-stars were finally subdued by the famous Asheville

Blues, who could take only a close 1-0 victory.

However, the previous year, the all-stars showed their prowess by defeating the strong U. S. Marines 4-2, sending into defeat the Leathernecks' ace hurler, Dan Bankhead.

Advance reports from cities of the South show great interest in the game which is expected to attract another 10,000 fans to Memorial Stadium. In this connection, a large number of white fans are showing interest in the game since the advent this season of Negro players in the major leagues. Observers agree that the game may display talent which another season may be seen in a major league uniform.

In addition to the color of the game itself, two uniformed bands and other features add to the gaiety of the classic.

CITY SCHOOLS OPEN HERE SEPTEMBER 2

The Greensboro City Schools will begin the 1947-48 term on September 2.

The administrative staff and maintenance force have been on duty all summer. Permanent records have been made, reports consolidated and filed, budgets prepared and approved, audits made, inventories completed, buildings repaired, painting done, vacancies filled, supplies ordered, library books cataloged, a tentative organization set up, etc.

Some of the vocational teachers began their work on August 1; others will report August 15. Principals begin their duties August 18.

A meeting will be held by the superintendent with Negro principals at 2:30 p. m. on August 26. The meetings will be held at the administration building on Sampson street.

The teachers' meetings will be held for colored teachers at Dudley high school, on Lincoln street, 2:00 p. m., September 1.

Any pupil who is transferring from another school system to Greensboro should register with the principal, whose school the pupil will be due to attend, between August 18 and 30. Former pupils who wish to change the courses to be taken should likewise see the principal prior to the opening date of school.

The South's 8th annual Original All-Star classic will feature Robert Clark, Richmond catcher, who is manager of the Richmond Giants, and is known for his feats when playing with the Baltimore Elite Giants, as is said to have the best throwing arm in Negro baseball.

Joe Siddle, Greensboro, chosen by All-Star teams as the preference for first base in the entire Carolina League, played on first for the famous M. T. O. Service team with the 92nd division of the U. S. Army. David Campbell, manager and former big league, now of the Winston-Salem Pond Giants, will also be in the All-Star lineup.

Clement Verona, formerly a member of the Cleveland Buckeye, and a native Cuban, now with the Goshen Red Wings, Goodman, of the Norfolk Royals and beloved by the fans, and Davis, of the Raleigh Grays, will alternate for the position of shortstop.

Finney, of the Norfolk Royals, chosen by the Newark Eagles for next season, and Latham, of the Danville All-Stars, will share the hot corner; fielders chosen are Big Jim Williams, manager of the Danville team, former big league fielder for the New York Black Yankees, Ray Debnan Durham athletics manager, hitting .370; Lefty Evans, of the Raleigh Grays, manager and and skipper; Edicon Ledwell, of the Goshen Red Wings, and Bo Harrison, of the Winston-Salem Pond Giants, David Campbell, of the Winston-Salem Pond Giants.

Goshen Red Wings players will serve as hosts to the All-Star classic Sunday since they are an organized baseball club in the Carolina League, which gives them first preference to the Greensboro Memorial Stadium above all other Negro baseball clubs.

Winners In Two Contests Chosen At N.F.A. Meet

Winners in two of the organization's national contests were named Monday at sessions of the New Farmers of America national convention at A. and T. college here.

Joseph Reed of Waverly, Va., was first in the parliamentary procedure contest, in which district contestants competed in a quiz. Other district winners, whom Reed defeated were Richard C. Newman, of Tallahassee, Fla., and Henry Parker, of Pine Bluff, Ark.

In the talent contest, LeRoy Chavis, of Wise was victor over Herman Hudson of Sanford, Fla., and Robert Brown of Jonesboro, La. The finalists had been selected in elimination contests held for three separate regions of the convention's 16-state territory.

Judges for the event were Chas. Bynum, executive of the Infantile Paralysis Foundation of New York City; Russell Guin, vice-president of the Inter-state Printers, Danville, Ill., and Dr. G. P. Deyoe, professor of agricultural education at Michigan State College.

The parliamentary quiz was conducted by Dr. W. F. Stewart, head of the department of agricultural education at Ohio State University, Columbus, author of a book on parliamentary procedure.

Some 500 delegates attending the convention heard a welcome address Monday morning by Dr. F. D. Bluford, president of A. and T. College, and another by James Bryant of Bricks, president of the North Carolina New Farmers Association.

In his address, Dr. Bluford credited North Carolina with a leading position in equalizing opportunities for Negroes. He pointed out that the state is equalizing pay of teachers and that it has two land grant Negro colleges whereas most Southern states have only one.

Laurence D. Pierce, New farmers president, responded to the welcome. Quartets from the North Carolina, Oklahoma, and Florida organizations competed in the eliminations in the orchestra contest in which national winners were announced later.

Tar Heel Named Head Of National N. F. A. Body

James Bryant, of Bricks, was elected president of the New Farmers of America at the final formal session of its national convention at A. and T. college here Monday.

Other officers named by the representatives from 16 states attending the convention included Robert Brown, Jr., Grambling, La., first vice-president; Lincoln Bobo, of South Carolina, second vice-president; Robert Adams, of Georgia, third vice-president; Melvin Burleson, of Texas, secretary; Walter Cardwell, of Tennessee, treasurer, and Glenwood Roane, of Virginia, reporter.

The H. O. Sargent award, named for the founder of the organization and presented annually to a farm youth recognized for outstanding achievement in farm work after being out of school for three years,

(Continued On Page Four)

MISS FLORA BLANCHETTE—a graduate of New York University with a degree in nursing education and hospital administration. Miss Blanchette is a former graduate nurse of L. Richardson Memorial hospital, where she was for a number of years director of nursing education. She is widely known by the medical profession and other friends in Greensboro. She plans to return to her native home, St. Kitts, British West India, to practice her profession there.

Trouble Haunts Boyd; Sentenced For Year

Because he just couldn't stay out of trouble, Robert Boyd, of Route 2, Greensboro, was sentenced Wednesday to a year on the county farm on separate charges.

His real difficulties began last Monday when he was found guilty in Municipal-County court and fined $50 and costs on charges of receiving stolen property. A compliance day was set for Wednesday and he was freed on bond.

Thursday, he was in court again. This time he faced charges of operating a motor vehicle after his driver's license had been revoked. He was lectured, and the finding was held up until Wednesday, the compliance date for the offense.

Wednesday, Boyd was in court on three additional charges. He (Continued On Page Seven)