

"INNER SANCTUM" OFFERS "NIGHT OF DEATH"

"Night of Death" is the shivery title of the "Inner Sanctum" mystery on Monday at 7:00 p. m. over WBIG-CBS. Richard Widmark stars as Leo Webber in the original radio drama by Michael Sklar.

Leo Webber kills a jealous husband, George Cartwright, in a fight. From Lucille Cartwright Leo learns that her husband had choked her and left her for dead. He had also left a confession to this act. Then Leo learns that Cartwright had drawn $25,000 from the bank to make a getaway. Leo, a thoroughgoing heel, decides to kill Lucille, thus eliminating the only witness to his first killing and gaining him exclusive possession of the $25,-

000. To make his case airtight, he impersonates Cartwright on a plane trip to Canada, returning under another name. Just when Leo is congratulating himself on cleverly grabbing $25,000, his impersonation of the dead man backfires with surprising results.

"Inner Sanctum" is produced and directed by Himan Brown. Paul McGrath is the weird host, while Lew White provides mood music for murder on the organ.

BETTY REILLY IS GUEST ON "SUMMER ELECTRIC HOUR"

Betty Reilly, the Mexican-born Irish lass who last winter took New York theater and night club-goers by storm with her novelty songs, will be the special guest of Woody Herman and Peggy Lee on the "Summer Electric Hour" broadcast Sunday at 3:30 p. m. over WBIG-CBS.

Miss Reilly recently concluded a successful engagement with Xavier Cugat's orchestra, now Ciro's in Hollywood, and currently is featured in a musical, "On An Island With You," starring Esther Williams, Peter Lawford, Jimmy Durante and Xavier Cugat's orchestra, now being filmed at the Metro Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Miss Lee will sing the continental hit, "Passing By," and Woody Herman will revive an old favorite, "Am I Blue?" The pair will offer another old-timer, "When the Red, Red Robin Comes Bobbin' Along."

The singing stars will be accompanied by Dave Barbours' orchestra. Bud Heistand announces. The "Summer Electric Hour" is directed by Richard Dunn.

"SNOWDROP AND SEVEN DWARFS" TO BE HEARD ON "LET'S PRETEND"

The beloved fairy tale of "Snowdrop and the Seven Dwarfs" will be broadcast by "Let's Pretend" today at 10:05 over WBIG-CBS.

Before Snowdrop was born, her mother wished for a little girl with skin as white as the snow, cheeks as red as blood drops, and hair as black as ebony. That little girl was Snowdrop. However, her mother died, and she had a cruel and wicked stepmother who was exceedingly jealous of Snowdrop's beauty. The stepmother's magic mirror told her that Snowdrop's beauty would far excel hers.

Determined to do away with Snowdrop, the stepmother hired a hunter to take the child into the forest and kill her. The hunter didn't have the heart to destroy such loveliness, and allowed Snowdrop to run away. She found a little cottage where seven dwarfs lived and kept house for them.

The magic mirror told the queen that Snowdrop still lived and where she was. The wicked woman disguised herself and persuaded the girl to eat a poisoned apple. Everyone thought she was dead and the dwarfs sorrowfully put her in a crystal coffin. When a prince came to the cottage and saw her, he determined to bring her to his castle and have all the doctors in the kingdom to try to revive her. An unexpected happening made this unnecessary and brings the tale to a happy ending.

Nila Mack dramatizes and directs "Let's Pretend."

Patients of the Veterans Administration tuberculosis hospital at Sunmount, N. Y., are publishing an athletic newspaper in addition to the regular hospital paper. The TB patients, unable to participate in active athletics, find the sports paper an adequate substitute for actual participation.

The Danville, Ill., Y. M. C. A. is cooperating with the Veterans Administration hospital there by offering its gymnasium facilities to veteran-patients able to take part in athletics.

JEAN HERSHOLT AS "DESTINY'S HELPER" ON "DR. CHRISTIAN" PROGRAM

Dr. Christian helps a young musical prodigy to find his destiny in "Heritage," the original story on the "Dr. Christian" program starring Jean Hersholt, on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. over WBIG-CBS.

Mark Tayton has inherited great musical talent from his dead mother. But Mark's father does not want the lad to become a violinist since the music had brought his wife nothing but unhappiness and frustration.

Dr. Christian and Mark's music professor, however, convince Tim Tayton that, although the youth inherited his musical talent from his shy, sensitive mother, he received from his father the purposeful fighting spirit that would help him achieve fulfillment instead of disappointment in a musical career.

Rosemary De Camp will play nurse Judy Price on the program, and Art Gilmore will announce for "Vaseline" brand products.

the March edition. The article is entitled "A Plan for Citizenship Participation in Community Development."

SAFETY PAYS and COSTS NOTHING

"Safe at home" sounds better than the facts warrant. In this country each year, home accidents result in lifelong physical impairment for 130,000 people, and cause the loss of at least one day from school or work for 5,000,000 others.

Most of these accidents result from falls . . . and most falls occur on steps. Yet simple precautions make steps safe:

One strong hand rail on at least one side.

Clearance of all mops, boxes, brooms. PLENTY OF LIGHT.
