Bennett College To Hold 33rd Annual Homemaking Institute

Dates for the 33rd annual Homemaking Institute at Bennett College will be March 8-15, President Willa B. Player announced this week.

This year's institute, which will be conducted around the thematic idea of "Women in Careers and in Community Service," will begin with a special vesper program on Sunday, March 8 at 4:00 p. m.

Four more programs, each to be held in Pfeiffer Chapel are scheduled. On Monday, at 10:00 a. m., there will be a panel discussion of "Women in Careers" at which time Mrs. Alice Dunnigan, of Washington, correspondent for the Associated Negro Press; Mrs. Sarah Herbin, of High Point, N. C. associate director of merit employment with the Southern region of the American Friends Service Committee, and Mrs. Clifton T. Snipes, local business woman, will participate.

The Wednesday morning program will feature an address by Mrs. William T. Mason of Norfolk, Va. Mrs. Mason is a public relations consultant. The Friday morning program participants will be students who will describe classroom experiences which they have had relating to community service.

Closing program, at which an institute summary will be given, will be held at 4:00 p. m. on Sunday, March 15 at which time Dr. Allan Knight Chalmers of (Continued on Page 5)

Young Ladies Make Debut To Society

Zeta Phi Beta Sorority Presents Eighth Annual Debutante Ball

A huge gathering of the Elites of Greensboro and surrounding towns were present when twenty 1959 Debs were presented to society on February at the Hayes Taylor YMCA. The official welcome was given by Mrs. Vashti Goodman. Mrs. V. C. Flack, choreographer at Lincoln Jr. High presented her dance members in two numbers, "Night of My Night" by Patricia Moore and "Mr Robert" by Brenda Tyson, Gloria Adams and Florence Whithers. The numbers were warmly received by an appreciative audience. Mr. Thomas Hayes, A member of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity announced the young tiful queen of the cotillion was present an orchid-studded fan by the maid of honor Miss Barbara Mingia.

The grand march was led by Miss Earnestine Smith who was attired in a gown of Royal blue. Her escort for the march was Broce Speight.

The theme of the ball was "Southern Belles." The figure made by the Debs and their marshalls, made a very pretty picture. This was followed by the "Daddy's" Dance, Parents and Sponsors Danie, All Greek dedication and dancing for all.

Each Deb carried a fan of carnations of various pastel hues.

John W. Jeffries To Retire From Extension Services

John W. Jeffries, assistant state agent with the A&T College Extension Service, and who has the longest record of any worker currently connected with the North Carolina Extension Service will retire later this month.

"Jeff" as he is affectionately called, helped a lot of farmers, made plenty of friends and readily admits that he gave some bad advice during the 37 years he worked with the farmers of North Carolina. On the eve of his long awaited retirement, Jeff told reporters this week, that if he had to do it all over he would follow almost exactly the same course.

Referring directly to his experience in Extension work, he added, "there is no other job in which I would have been happier, nor done as well."

The story of Jeff's life is just about a carbon copy of the his-
