ATTY. HENRY E. FRYE TO RUN FOR N. C. HOUSE OF REPRESENTAT

Atty. Henry E. Frye of Greensboro announced Wednesday that he will be a candidate in the forthcoming Democratic primary for a seat in the North Carolina House of Representatives.

In a press conference at the Hayes-Taylor YMCA, Frye said if elected, he will devote his time and attention to "bridging the gap between the haves and the have nots."

"The greatest single problem facing Guilford County and the nation is not the war in Viet Nam, crime in the street or even liquor by the drink," said Frye. "It is, I believe, the growing differences between the haves and the have nots - those who enjoy the good things of this American way of life and those, who for various reasons, do not."

The young attorney, who polled over 9,000 votes in a bid for the same office two years ago, said he is also in favor of day, February 5th, 4:00 P.M. seeking new industries for the

> "If elected," said Frye, "I would favor the state working to bring in new industries with good paying jobs, and not advocate seeking to sell North Carolabor."

to encourage employers to hire merit and ability. "If the employment pattern has resulted in Miss E. Shirley Taylor. The excluding or severely limiting the employment and promotion of a minority or class," he added, "then I would urge a reexamination of that employment

In his talk, Frye hinted that a grass roots type campaign may be in the making. "Politically," he said, "I want to urge the participation of the poor in the

A WARNING TO THE PEOPLE

These words of the apostle John were addressed to the church and to the people as a warning: I know what you

J. L. Foushee are doing; I Minister of God know them which say they are Christians and are not and hast found them to be liars.

To a world that is troubled and in a state of unrest because of sin, God is still warning the people. I know what you are doing. I know your works, your thoughts, I know your attitude toward your fellow man, your dignity and your falling away from what is right in sight of God. (Deut. 30:19.) "I call Heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore, choose life, that both thou and thy children may live." To do this the people that God has created must be free from the sins of the world. Jesus says: "I am come that they might have Revelation 2:2; 2:9 life and that they might have it more abundantly." (John 10:10.) There is always a time when real life begins. Very often life begins with love. Jesus gives us a new view of man. We are the sons of God who have strayed from His teaching. God has called me to warn the people, to Banks Street. proclaim justice, compassion, sincerity, faithfulness to a shallow and legalistic society. God's eyes are upon the people today. He sees all you do and hears all you say. His judgment is upon the people. I know your works.

LET US PRAY

Almighty God, who has created the world and filled it with such beauty, fashioning it more perfectly than we often have the power or the wisdom to perceive, open our eyes that we may behold thy fatherly hand in all thy works; give us grace to meditate on thy workmanship and wisdom. Open our hearts that we may learn to serve Thee with gladness, and our fellowman with love and compassion. We ask these things in the name of thy Son whose beauty is everlasting. Amen
