Local Girl Qualifies For Who's Who

Mrs. Georgetta Jordan Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Jordan, 1502 Gorrell Street, Greensboro, N. C., product of Greensboro schools, and a senior at Fayetteville State College in Fayetteville, N. C., was recently awarded the honor of being listed in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. This recognition was bestowed for outstanding achievement in the areas of academic achievement, leadership, participation in extra-curricular campus activities, citizenship and service to the college, and promise of future usefulness to society and professional advancement. She and a student from Jamaica, N. Y., are the only two seniors at Fayetteville State College to be listed in the current Who's Who this year. Mrs. Baker, a 1964 graduate of Dudley High School, where she was Homecoming Queen in 1963-64, is a graduate of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal Elementary School and a former student of Notre Dame High School. At Notre Dame, in 1961, she was admitted to the Latin Honoris Societatem (Association for Promotion of Study of Latin). Contributions to community life during pre-college days were varied.

As a pre-teener she won the title of "Miss Jabberwock" in the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority "Miss Jabberwock Pageant". Later in March 1964, she was recipient of a "Miss Scholarship" award of $100.00 in the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority "Miss Jabberwock Pageant". At college, where she is an active soror in the Delta Sorority, she has been honored as Queen of the Lampoda—pledge club to the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity; and also on November 11, 1967, as Queen of Omega Psi Phi. She has served as a Sophomore Counselor for freshman girls, as a member of the Hospitality Committee of the Student Government, Student Life and Conduct Committee, English Club, and of the Grassroots Students' Association of Fayetteville State College.

Although still a bride, she devotes herself diligently to excellence in her major field—English, and other elected inter-charming Miss Theola Turner of the First Baptist Church, Albemarle, North Carolina.

She along with other finalists from throughout Piedmont and Western North Carolina are looking forward to meeting Sally Stedman, Miss North Carolina, who will be our special guest for the day.

Jimmie I. Barber, president of the Convention, extends a cordial invitation to all Christians.

Miss Diane Clark and Mrs. Toni Tyler Join Future Outlook Staff

The editor of the Future Outlook is proud to consider Mrs. Toni Lash Tyler and Miss Diane Clark as able assistants of his in arranging news, securing advertisements and keeping all books properly posted.

Mrs. Tyler is a graduate of James B. Dudley High School. She is presently employed at L. Richardson Hospital on the second shift.

Miss Clark is a junior at A&T

State University, where she is majoring in Sociology. Miss Clark has been with the staff approximately two years.

The able assistance of these two young ladies has proved to be an asset to the company, especially in arranging news and advertisements. When occasional dates occur, such as Easter and election time, much time will be needed to provide each candidate with assistance in writing articles.

MEDITATIONS

Rev. J. L. Foushee

Minister of God

John 3:16—"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish but have everlasting life."

If God was willing and loved us so much that He let His Son come into the world and suffer and die for our sins, we as a nation of people should try to love one another more. Let us pray:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, your humble servant prays that you help our fellow ministers of all races and give them power to preach and teach love to help save our country. Amen.

Greensboro Omega Chapter Seeks $275,000 Housing Project Here

A $275,000 experimental apartment project could become a reality if plans of the Tau Omega Chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity here are approved.

The fraternity has made application to become the non-profit sponsor of the unique project, which was designed by a computer.

Robert Barkley, executive director of Greensboro Redevelopment Commission, said this week that final decision on the sponsorship is expected within two weeks.

The Omegas propose to build their project on a 3½-acre tract located in Greensboro's Warnersville Redevelopment area.

The project features computerized design, precast columns,
