

NEW CHAMP COULD EMERGE FROM CITY GOLF TOURNEY

There may definitely be a new champion of the 6th Annual Gate City Open Golf Tournament scheduled here August 31 and September 1. That is, if Lee Elder does not show up for the tournament.

Elder, one of the top Negro players in the game, is now on the PGA tour. He won the Gate City Open the first five times it was held.

With or without Elder, this year's tourney, to be played on the Gillespie Park course, promises plenty of thrills and $3,000 in prize money.

Sponsored by the Gillespie Park Golf Association and the Greensboro Recreation Department, the tournament will feature 36 holes of play for professionals and amateurs.

Heading the list of entries for this year's tournament are Junior Walker and Curtis Sifford, both of Los Angeles. Walker is a topnotch player who has already won the Winston-Salem and Asheville tournaments. Sifford is the nephew of Charlie Sifford, one of the leading players in the PGA. Ace Jim Black of Charlotte will also play in the tournament.

Pros from the Greensboro area will include George Lovette, Murphy Street, William Whites, and James Spruill. In the amateur play, favorites include Joe Artis, Dr. George Simpkins, and Harry Winfield.

Officers of the sponsoring association are Dr. Simpkins, president; Joe Artis, vice president; Arthur Gilbreath, treasurer; and Robert Evans, secretary.

Simpkins said that the field in the Gate City Open will be limited to 100 players. He said that entry blanks and the fee should be returned to Chester L. Bradley, 816 Ross Avenue, Greensboro, N. C.

TOBACCO FIELD DAY SET AT REIDSVILLE

A tobacco field day will be held Friday, Aug. 2, at the Upper Piedmont Research Station near Reidsville.

Farmers and others interested in the production of flue-cured tobacco have been invited to visit research plots and review progress of studies with scientists from North Carolina State University.

The program begins at 9 a.m.

NCC PLAYS HOST

DURHAM, N. C.—North Carolina College will be host Thursday and Friday for its 18th Annual Summer Conference for Principals, Assistant Principals, and Supervisors.

Theme for the conference, which will draw principals from across the state, will be "New Careers for a New Generation: Role of the Public School, the College, and the University"

Four sessions will be held. At 10 a. m., Thursday, the conference will discuss "The Role of the Assistant Principal." At 2 p. m. Thursday, "The Role of the Public School" will be discussed.

At 8 p. m. Thursday, the group will discuss "The Role of the College and Graduate School," and at 10 a. m. Friday "The Role of Special Programs" will be the topic.

Among the outstanding educators who will lead the conference sessions are Dr. Calude Bond, assistant superintendent, Chattanooga Public Schools, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Dr. Earle H. West, professor of education, Howard University; and Dr.

with remarks by station superintendent Howell O. Gentry, Jr. Seven stops are scheduled with the last one set for 11:25 a. m. The program is expected to end by noon.

Subjects to be covered include chemical weed killers for tobacco, evaluation of fertilization schemes, official variety tests, varietal development, incorporation of weed killers into the soil, time of nitrogen application, and 2,4-D study on tobacco.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Involved. Perhaps you have members in your class who can speak to one of these areas. If your church is predominately middle-class, assign certain class members to get in touch with persons in these other groups, ask them about their reaction to the author's statements, and then report to the class.

Prayer: Dear God, we thank you that we are not left to chance as we go about our daily lives. We thank you that our everyday thoughts and actions are of concern to you. Keep us faithful to our high calling. Amen.

William J. Holloway, U. S. Office of Education.

The evening session Thursday will be in the college cafeteria. Other sessions will be in the auditorium of the college's education building.
