AGGIES FACE UNBEATEN TEAM FOR THIRD STRAIGHT GAME

A&T's big problem against Virginia State here Saturday afternoon is what to do for an encore. The Aggies for the third straight time find themselves facing an undefeated team.

The Trojans come to Greensboro with an impressive 5-0-1 record. Says A&T coach Hornsby Howell: "Those other games we won are in the past and we are not living on those. We have to respect Virginia State as not having lost a game."

The big question tonight is whether or not the Aggies can rise to the occasion for the third straight time. Two weeks ago, they snapped Morgan State College's 31-game winning streak. Last Saturday in Tallahassee, A&T dumped previously-unbeaten Florida A&M University 9-6.

The Aggies, now 5-1 in CIAA play, can go ahead of the Trojans in the standings with a victory. Both teams are a shade behind defending champion Morgan, 6-1 in league play.

Last Saturday, Virginia State whipped arch rival Norfolk State, 21-17, to remain in contention for the title. The Trojans are leading in two defensive categories in the conference ratings.

As in past games, the Aggies will bank on their explosive offensive attack to try to down the Trojans. Pacing the offense will be sophomore quarterback Stanley Jacobs and All-CIAA flanker Willie Pearson.

Jacobs, already destined to become one of the Aggies' greatest passers, can reach the 1,000-yard mark in passing yardage. He has thrown 12 touchdown passes and amassed 964 yards in the air.

Pearson, the Aggies' candidate for Little All-American honors, has gained 173 yards in 31 carries. He has scored seven touchdowns on pass receptions and one by rushing. He has 24 pass receptions for 399 yards.

A&T's other backfield starters will probably be fullback Tommy Blue and either halfback Henry Walker or Lorenzo Pearson.

Virginia State is led by All-CIAA fullback Garwin DeBerry, halfback Angelo Cuffee and defensive tackle Jim Mitchell.

Servicemen's Families May Record "Voices From Home" Again This Year

On Wednesday, December 4, through Friday, December 6, relatives of men and women in the military service stationed overseas may record messages to them at the Red Cross Chapter House, 1100 Church Street, according to Mrs. A. C. Woodroof, Jr., Chairman of "Voices From Home" Project of the Services to Military Families Department of the local chapter. Hours Wed. and Thurs. are 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. and on Fri. from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., with appointments to be scheduled at 20-minute intervals.

The Voicewriter Division, Thomas A. Edison Industries, has donated a Voicewriter to the Red Cross and the chapter is furnishing the discs and mailing envelopes without charge to persons who record messages.

Mrs. Woodroof and Mrs. W. Marvin Clapp, Chairman of Office of Volunteers, are scheduling volunteers to be at the Chapter House to assist families with recordings.

"Relatives wishing to make 'Voices From Home' Recordings are invited and urged to make appointments now by calling Red Cross Chapter House, 273-4481, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m., except Saturday and Sunday. We suggest that family members planning to send a message to the same person, come together. Also, it will be helpful if persons make notes of what they wish to say before coming to the Chapter House," said Mrs. Woodroof.

"Last year, more than 180 voices were recorded with the assistance of Red Cross Volunteers and staff. From reports families received from their sons and husbands overseas, we know how much these "Voices From Home" meant to them. We hope that many people in Greensboro and Guilford County will take advantage of this opportunity this year. The service is available also to families outside of this county, who may want to call and make an appointment. This is one of our Red Cross Services made possible through community support of United Fund of Greater Greensboro."
