Red Cross Home Nursing Course Begun

Are you prepared to take care of sickness in your home? That's an important question for every homemaker to be able to answer in the affirmative any time, particularly now that winter and its ills are here.

To help you learn many simple skills, the Red Cross offers a Home Nursing course. One started on Nov. 25 at 7:30 p. m. and met for 2-hour sessions on this date, and on Dec. 2, 4, and 9 at the Red Cross Chapter House, 1100 Church St. There is no charge for the training, the only expense is purchase of a textbook.

Mrs. Frances A. Campbell, Coordinator of Nursing Service, Greensboro Chapter, American Red Cross, invited teen-agers and adults to enroll in this interesting and important course by calling 273-4481. Mrs. Katherine Lloyd, R.N., will be instructor for this service, made possible through community support of the United Fund.

The course includes such subjects as: recognizing symptoms of illness, taking a temperature, making a patient comfortable in bed, improvising sickroom equipment, giving medicine according to doctor's orders, keeping an accurate daily record, preparing and serving proper diet to the patient, making a bed occupied by a sick person, giving a bed patient a bath, giving simple treatments ordered by the doctor. A very important emphasis in the course is how the home nurse can conserve her own energy and time, protect her own health and that of the family, and save her back!

Aggies End 8-1 Grid Season With 21-6 Win Over Eagles

By Richard E. Moore

Durham, N. C. — Although denied a share of the coveted CIAA football title, explosive North Carolina A&T concluded its best season since 1964 by downing arch-rival North Carolina College, 21-6 here before 11,000 fans Thanksgiving Day. The win over the Eagles upped the Aggies' season record to 8-1, quite an accomplishment for Hornsby Howell, A&T's new coach.

In defeating N. C. College, the Aggies got a topnotch performance from senior flanker Willie Pearson and sophomore quarterback Stanley Jacobs.

Pearson, A&T's Little All-American candidate, broke the Eagles' back with a 72-yard punt return for a touchdown midway the third quarter. The Aggies had scored twice in the first period. It was Jacobs, a native of Orangeburg, S. C., who took the Eagles apart with his passes. Jacobs connected on seven of 17 tosses for 127 yards, most of these in the first half. He also scored on a one-yard run with 4:00 left in the second quarter. The Aggies' other score came on a one-yard run by fullback Tommy Blue late in the first quarter.

Jacobs' favorite targets were

Pearson, with three catches for 84 yards, and freshman end Willie Wright. The stout A&T defense, led by tackles Dempsey Bryant, Ralph Coleman, and ends Billy Gaines and Doug Hentz, completed frustrated North Carolina College's attack. The Eagles were held to 70 yards on the ground and to just 10 yards passing. The Eagles' lone touchdown came in the opening moments of the fourth quarter, when end Joseph Harrell blocked Blue's punt, grabbed the ball and raced 12 yards to paydirt. Other than that, North Carolina College could get no closer than A&T's 19-yard line.

A&T's first touchdown by Blue was set up when Bryant recovered an Eagle fumble on N. C. College's 7-yard line. It took the A&T fullback three plays to score. Pearson's exciting run came with 8:00 left in the third period. Unable to move the ball, the Eagles punted from their own 28. Pearson caught the ball, danced momentarily behind a wall of blockers and raced into the end zone. It was his 10th touchdown of the season. Blue was A&T's leading rusher with 55 yards in 12 carries. Richard Armstrong added 37 yards in 11 carries.
