First White Football Player To Play For A&T State University

North Carolina A&T, a powerhouse in the predominantly Negro Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association, last week signed its first white football player. Signed to a grant-in-aid by Aggie assistants Mel Groomes and Willie Jeffries was Sgt. John Andrews of Camp Lejeune, N. C. Andrews, a native of Laurinburg, N. C., is 6-1 and weighs 225. He was scouted by A&T coaches last fall when he played center for the eight-man Camp Lejeune team.

Announcing the signing was Aggie football coach Hornsby Howell, who guided A&T to an 8-1 season last year.

"Andrews liked our program and approach to things," said Howell. "He will get a shot at the center position vacated by the graduating Ken Page. He chose us over several other schools in North Carolina and is coming here to study physical education. His ambition is eventually to coach."

Howell also said that two other fine players from Camp Lejeune have signed grant-inaids with A&T. They are Langston Dunehgy of Owensboro, Ky., a 6-2, 205-pound guard; and John Davis, who does the 100 in under 10, is a 6-2, 210pound end. Both players are Negroes.

Students and Faculty

A&T State University students and officials reached a general agreement on a set of student demands last Thursday after a one-day occupation of the university's administration building. Dr. Lewis C. Dowdy, president of A&T, said the following agreements were reached after a meeting of representatives of the Student Government Association and a committee of the Faculty Senate:

• The university will institute a black studies program within the Humanities Department next fall. The Afro-American Cultural Center, started at the university last spring, will serve as the basis of the new program.

• Dr. Dowdy will appoint a student-faculty committee to hear complaints on grades.

 Dr. Dowdy will appoint a faculty committee to hear complaints on faculty members when arising from the Student Government Association.

• The university will revise its policy concerning the issuance of student transcripts.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

W. R. Phillips, manager of the North Carolina Veterans Administration Regional Office, issued a reminder today that war widows are eligible for GI Bill-type education and home loan benefits administered by the VA. The education benefits are also available to wives of veterans who are permanently and totally disabled as the result of military service. Under a new law which went into effect Dec. 1, 1968, Phillips said the widow of a man who died and the wife of a veteran who was permanently and totally disabled as the result of military service is entitled to 36 months of educational assistance from the VA. An allowance of $130 a month is paid for full-time training with lesser sums paid for part-time

Unremarried widows of veterans who served in World War II, the Korean Conflict, or in the Post-Korean period (since Jan. 31, 1955) and who died in service or as the result of service are eligible for VA-guaranteed GI home loans. This eligibility expires July 25, 1970, for World War II widows, with widows of Korean Conflict veterans having until January 31, 1975, to use their entitlement.

> The VA will guarantee 60 per cent-up to a maximum of $12,500 - of the loan obtained by the widow. Long-term mortgages (up to 30 years) and little or no down-payments remain the principal advantages of GI loans. The VA also listed some other benefits of particular interest to women:

Dependency and Indemnity Compensation: Monthly payments for widows and children of men who died in service or as the result of service. Payment is generally $120 a month plus 12 per cent of the monthly basic pay now being received by a serviceman whose rank and years of service are the same as those of the deceased serviceman. Minimum payment is $133 a month.

Death Pension: Monthly payment for needy unremarried widows and minor children of veterans whose deaths were not related to military service. The amount of the pension is keyed to income.
