Veterans who have lost their Certification of Attendance card (which should have been mailed to the VA last June) should obtain another one from the VA office that issued it, and mail it immediately to the VA.

Editor's Note: Below are authoritative answers by the Veterans Administration to some of the many current questions from former servicemen and their on veterans benefits may be obtained at any VA office.

Q - I served with the Armed Forces police and was recently discharged. Can I obtain onthe-job training under the G. I. Bill for the city police department?

A - Some 150 cities have a 13-month VA-approved on-thejob training course for policemen. The programs generally involve academic instruction as well as practical field experience. Your city happens to be one with the approved course. Check with your police department or VA office for any assistance or advice needed. Basic requirements include a personal interview by a department official, a character investigation and possession of a driver's license.

Q - My wife and I are being divorced so I am changing the beneficiary of my government life insurance to my sister. Must I notify my wife of public. The Oct. 3 meeting will this?

A — As the insured, you may change the beneficiary at any time without the knowledge or consent of a previously named beneficiary, and you may elect to have the policy paid in a lump sum or monthly.
