DEATHS AND FUNERALS PROMINENT EDUCATOR DIES

CHARLES U. DeBERRY

Funeral services for Charles Ulysses DeBerry were conducted at Bethel A.M.E. Church, Greensboro, N. C. at 4:00 P.M., Tuesday, Oct. 14, 1969, with Rev. L. S. Penn, pastor, officiating. Rev. Penn brought to attention the fact that Charles was a wonderful example of a man — raised son, as his father took over when he lost his mother at the age of two. Burial was in Piedmont Memorial Park.

"To keep busy to serve and to contribute" sums up the life of Charles Ulysses DeBerry, educator and humanitarian.

Dr. DeBerry was born in Greensboro, N. C. April 21, 1910 the son of the late Sim and Vinnie DeBerry. He died on Saturday, Oct. 11 at L. Richardson Hospital, after a brief illness.

He was graduated from A&T in 1931. He received the Masters and Ph.D. Degrees from the New York University.

He was a star athlete at A&T where he participated in varsity sports including football, baseball, basketball and track. Later, during two seasons from 1944 to 1946 he was head football coach of the A&T Aggies.

Dr. DeBerry was a member

MR. CHARLIE H. MAYES

Funeral services for Mr. Charlie H. Mayes were conducted at Hargett Memorial Chapel, Greensboro, N. C. on Wednesday, Oct. 15, 1969 at 1:00 p.m. with Elder L. G. Rahming, officiating.

Mr. Mayes, son of the late Eddie and Fannie Harris Mayes, was born November 18, 1894 in Oxford, N. C. and departed this life October 12, 1969 in Moses H. Cone Memorial Hospital, Greensboro, N. C.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nannie S. Mayes; one

Brotherly Advice From A Pro Helps Aggie Football Star

"Don't ever give up when the chips are down and don't drop your head when they beat you with a pass pattern."

Believe it or not, that's the kind of homespun philosophy on which A&T quarterback Doug Westmoreland thrives.

Westmoreland is just lucky enough to have a big brother (Dickie of the Miami Dolphins) who can give that kind of advice, and he's glad to accept it.

"I think that my brother is the reason that I was attracted to defense," said Doug. "I am not trying to imitate him, I am just trying to be me, but I certainly respect all of his advice."

The elder Westmoreland, also a former Aggie star, is one of the top cornerbacks in the AFL. Young Westmoreland, a junior, is one reason the Aggies have one of the best defensive secondaries in the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA).

Westmoreland has a lot of football savvy and he pops pass receivers real good if they catch the ball in his zone or runners if they come his way.

"I don't think that I am hav-
