Veterans' Corner

Q — I am a World War II veteran. Does the new G.I. Bill which went into effect on Oct. 1, 1967, extend my eligibility for a G.I. loan to July 25, 1970?

A — Not necessarily. The Veterans' Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967 extended the final cut-off date for certain veterans to July 25, 1970 . . . your deadline for using your G.I. home loan entitlement depends upon your date of discharge from service and the length of time you served in the Armed Forces. Contact the VA.

Q — Instead of a grave marker given by the Army, can we get the money to apply toward a stone we want to buy for my veteran father?

A — No. The marker is furnished on application, but no monetary allowance in lieu of the marker is authorized.

& — Since both my wife and I are veterans, can both of us claim our one child as a dependent to qualify for increased educational assistance? I realize, of course, that each of us can't claim the other as a dependent.

A — Both of you can qualify for the increased educational assistance allowance by your claiming your wife as a dependent and your wife claiming the baby as a dependent.

Q — How much can I borrow

First Black Chairman

Durham City Councilman Named To Head A&T Trustee Board

A&T State University last week elected its first Negro chairman of the Board of Trustees.

He is John S. Stewart, president of the Mutual Savings and Loan Association and member of the Durham, N. C. City Council.

Stewart was named to his post by unanimous vote of the trustees. He thus becomes the first black man to serve as chairman of the board since the predominately-black institution was opened in 1891. Charles Phillips of Greensboro was elected vice-chairman.

The new chairman succeeded Robert Frazier of Greensboro, who had been chairman of the board since 1957. Prior to the election, Frazier said he had felt for some time that "a member of the predominant race should be elected chairman of the board."

Following Stewart's election, Frazier was named honorary

FOUNDERS' DAY OBSERVANCE AT NORTH CAROLINA MUTUAL HONORS WHITNEY M. YOUNG, JR.

Whitney M. Young, Jr., executive director of the National Urban League was the principal speaker and third recipient of the "Merrick-Moore-Spaulding National Achievement Award" at the Fifth Annual Founders' Day Observance of North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Co., Thursday, Oct. 30, 1969.

The Urban League's executive director since 1961, Mr. Young has worked to win total equality for Negroes and other minorities and has been referred to as the most effective man in the nation when it comes to drumming up jobs for Negroes. In his address to the Founders' Day Observance audience he advocated the "notion of black power" but acknowledged that it should be put in its proper perspective. That perspective, he said, is one of economic, legal, political, and

Buster S. Cohen Retires After 46 Years of Employment

After 46 years of continuous employment with the Greensboro Coca-Cola Bottling Company, Buster S. Cohen is retiring. When Mr. Cohen joined the company in 1923, the plant was located on South Elm Street, just north of the Lee Street junction. He came to work for the company after working for a small home delivery grocery store, driving a delivery wagon. Mr. Cohen's first job with Greensboro Coca-Cola Bottling Co. was washing bottles and was soon promoted to operator of a foot powered filling machine. The five shown in the picture, from left to right, have a total of 182 years continuous service with Coca-Cola: Lee Darling, 27 years; A. H. Parker, 35 years; Buster S. Cohen, 46 years; T. A. Wooten, 37 years; and Robert Crowder, 27 years. Mr. Cohen is seen receiving gifts from the company including a suit of clothes, a pair of shoes, a necktie and a combination alarm clock-radio. Mr. Cohen's comment was "What do I need the alarm clock for?"
