

Mink's Little Luxuries Sing a Spring Salute

NEW YORK (ED)—Younger than springtime, apple-blossom soft . . . the mini-minks are the little luxuries that make a girl think spring. Newest, now, are the tiny wraps: just enough fur for graceful gliding, just in time for the return of The Lady to fashion's favor. No wild beasts, here. The Emba elegancies are bred to their calling: keeping a lady good company, through all the sweet sociabilities of this soft-spoken spring.
