FOOTBALL FANS NO LONG-ER ASK WHO IS NO. 82 ON A&T GRID TEAM?

After North Carolina A&T's opening football game against Southern University, the sports-writers and fans were asking, "Who's No. 82?"

But since that time, the name and number of linebacker Ben Blacknall have become household items, at least to enemy ball carriers and coaches.

"This boy is only a junior and he is one of the best that I have seen," said one pro scout after seeing Blacknall at work against Johnson C. Smith.

"He hasn't given us a bad game yet," said A&T coach Hornsby Howell. "He really understands what we're after and he goes all out to accomplish it."

Blacknall, a candidate for all-conference honors, usually figures something like 19 or 20 tackles per game.
