Final Rites To Be Held Saturday For Prominent Dudley High Teacher

Mrs. Juanita Jones Goldsborough, eldest daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. Wesley Jones, was born November 15, 1915, in Lynchburg, Va. She received her educational foundation from the public schools of her native city, graduating from high school as valedictorian of her class in 1932. In that same year she entered Virginia State College as a scholarship awardee. Here she performed with distinction in both the academic and athletic areas. Her athletic skills were in basketball and volley ball. In 1933 she was inducted into Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. Her scholastic prowess earned for her a B.S. degree in home economics, membership in the Alpha Kappa Mu Honor So-

Entire City Council Re-Elected

The entire Greensboro City Council was re-elected in the election on Tuesday, May 4th. This is the first time this has happened since World War II.

Of the 53,255 registered voters 16,586 voted. The present mayor pro tem, Jim Melvin took the lead with a 237 voting lead over the present mayor. Elam was the top vote-getter in the April 20 primary. The results may mean that the seven council members will reverse the present position of Elam and Melvin when they organize the 1971-73 City Council on May 10, and Melvin may be the No. 1 choice for mayor. Taking third place was Mrs. Mary P. Seymour. The other winners in order of the votes they received were Charlie Phillips Jr., Jimmie I. Barber, Vance H. Chavis, and William L. Trotter Jr.

A&T Hosts 16 Colleges in Workshop Concerning Work-Study Programs

Representatives of 16 predominantly-black colleges will join consultant from national firms in a workshop on cooperative education programs for developing colleges on Thursday and Friday at the Ramada Inn.

Sponsored by A&T State University in conjunction with the 16-college Consortium for Cooperative Education, the conference will discuss trends and developments in combination work-study programs for college students.

A&T recently received more than $80,000 in federal funds to initiate a project which permits students to alternate periods of study at the University with employment in business and industry.

In Thursday's sessions, which got underway at 9 a.m., the educators and students discussed the theme, "Exploring Ways of Implementing and Strengthening Cooperative Education Programs."

Consultants were Dr. Edwin S. Lewis, president of the Cooperative Education Association, William Grayson, executive vice president of Ebony Magazine and Hal Sieber, public relations director of the Greensboro Chamber of Commerce.

Other consultants for the two-day workshop were to be Mrs. Glenda F. Lentz, assistant director of Cooperative Education at Florida State University; Miss Barbara Phinney, an official of
