G.T.I. Honors 1st RN Graduating Class

Jamestown — Guilford Technical Institute will honor the first graduating class of its Registered Nursing Program Thursday evening with a pinning and capping ceremony at High Point College Auditorium.

The 7:30 p.m. event will honor 72 students — 36 seniors who will receive pins and the traditional black stripe for their caps, and 36 freshmen who will receive caps. The seniors, who will complete their course of study this week, will return to GTI in August for formal graduation exercises.

Keynote speaker for Thursday's program will be GTI President Luther R. Medlin. He will be introduced by Jerry Owens, dean of instruction. Other program participants will be Mrs. Polly Tillman, chairman of the Health Occupations Division, Mrs. Kitty Heath, president of the Senior Class, and Mrs. Donna Smyth, president of the Freshman Class.

The 36 seniors were among the initial 50 students to register for GTI's two-year RN program in September of 1970. Accredited by the North Carolina State Board of Nursing, the program consists of 50 per cent general education (sociology, philosophy, psychology, chemistry, physics, anatomy and physiology) and 50 per cent nursing education.

Students complete primary clinical training at High Point Memorial Hospital, psychiatric training at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Salisbury, fundamental training at Maryfield Nursing Home in High Point, and work in numerous doctors' offices, public and private schools, and the Family Planning Clinic in Greensboro.

UNIQUE $200,000 PROGRAM AT A&T TO TRAIN AIDES FOR MENTAL HEALTH CENTERS

BY RICHARD MOORE
A&T News Bureau

The belief that persons with less than full professional training can play a major role in helping to solve the nation's mental health crisis, is the basis for an innovative federally-backed program being initiated at A&T State University.

Funded by a $200,000 grant from the National Institute of Mental Health and the Model Cities program, the new program is designed to prepare and train persons who can function as community health paraprofessionals or aides in a capable and skilled manner in a wide variety of tasks.

"This is a manpower training program which will try to bridge the gap in the distribution of better mental health care services," said Mrs. Hattie Liston, director of the project. "This program is unique in North Carolina, and could well become the prototype of the entire Southeast area."
