DR. WILLA B. PLAYER RECEIVES H.E.W.'S HIGHEST AWARD

Dr. Willa B. Player, Director of the Division of College Support in the U.S. Office of Education, has been awarded the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare's Distinguished Service Award.

Dr. Player earned the award, HEW's highest, for outstanding leadership that has greatly strengthened higher education and contributed to mutual respect between black and white institutions. Under her direction, the colleges and universities benefiting from the Strengthening Developing Institutions program have grown from 158 in 1966 to 555 in 1972.

Dr. Player also administers the Cooperative Education Program and the Institute and Short Term Training Programs for Higher Education Personnel. She was serving as president of Bennett College in Greensboro, North Carolina, when she was brought to Washington in 1966 to head the college support programs.

A&T STATE RECEIVES $275,000 IN FEDERAL GRANTS

By Richard Moore

The value of research at A&T State University, which has grown from $3,000 to nearly $3 million in the past five years, received another important boost this week when two professors were awarded federal grants totalling $275,000.

The two new projects are both being funded through the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Cooperative State Research Service.

Awarded a grant of $146,781 was Dr. Myrtle Smith, a professor of home economics and nutrition. She will investigate the clothing needs of low income families.

The other research grant of $128,638 was awarded to Dr. C. W. Seo, also a professor of home economics. She will investigate ways of improving the quality
