Ladies Missionary Society Meets

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Methodist church held one of the most interesting and enthusiastic meetings of the year with Mrs. J. M. Cheek. The home was attractively decorated with late summer and autumn flowers.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. T. J. Carson, vice-president, who presided in the absence of the president. The devotional exercises were conducted by Messrs. Joe Armhurst and Brames of North Wilkesboro, visitors for the afternoon. After the devotionals Mrs. Armhurst gave a splendid talk on "The Value of a Mission Study Class," and urged the society to organize one at once. Mrs. Brame spoke in behalf of the Zone Meeting of the Ladies Missionary Society to be held in Sparta Methodist church on Friday, October 20 at 10:00 o'clock. A splendid personal service report was given showing 32 visits made to sick and $28.05 given to needy families. Mrs. J. T. Inskip was appointed Superintendent of Mission Study Class and Mrs. Sidney Gambill, teacher. During the social hour Mrs. Cox of Bridal Creek, Va., gave two splendid readings, Cushman Hop and Boothe, Tarkington's Fenrod, which were enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Cox is a graduate of the Curry School of Expression. At the conclusion of the meeting the hostess assisted by her daughter, Miss Margaret, served a tempting course to the regular members and five visitors, Messrs. Joe Armhurst, Brames, Dr. Smith and Cox, of Independence, and Geo. Ed Carson. Members of all churches are cordially invited to attend the meeting Friday and hear Mr. Armhurst, Seymour Taylor, and other prominent speakers, and bring a small basket of lunch. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. T. J. Carson, with Mrs. J. M. Chek as leader. —Mr. S. C. Landreth, prominent farmer near Amelia, produced 100 bushels of shelled corn on two acres of land on the creek bottom. This yield is well above the average for the State. Mr. Landreth is also a raiser of fine horses and cattle.

CHURCHES

ARE YOU A CHRISTIAN?

To be orthodox in theory and heterodox in practice it is to merit condemnation here and judgment hereafter.

We start life by faith, and we must continue it in everyday living.

Our Blessed Lord Jesus censured men who talked well and lived poorly.

A Christian should be an unanswerable argument for the Bible. A rebuke to everyone living in hypocrisy, an invitation to all who are living in sin.

A Christian is one who lives in right relations with God and reminds the world of Jesus because of His union with Him.

Are you a Christian? Then, in your home you are true; in your business you are honest; in your work you are thorough; in your recreation you are consistent; in your life you are noble.

To your church you are true. To God you are faithful.

If you are a true Christian you will rejoice with the fortunate and sympathize with the suffering.

You will be against everything that is wrong and in favor of all that is right.

You will contribute strength to the weak and congratulate the strong. The world is in great need of sincere, honest, faithful, consistent Christians.

Are you a Christian? If so come and worship with us each Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, in the Union Prayer services.

The services alternate between the Methodist and Baptist churches. The leaders alternate between the Revs. Russell, Underwood, and Marshall. Come and bring your friends.

If you are not a Christian you are invited to come and learn of Him. O. W. MARSHALL.

Services will be held by Rev. O. W. Marshall at the Baptist Church on Sunday morning at 11:00 A. M. You are invited to come and worship with us, and bring your friends. O. W. Marshall.

Elders J. M. Williams and Isom Fender will not hold services at the Tolliver schoolhouse the first Saturday and Sunday in November, on account of a baptismal service at Meadow Creek.

By request of Elders J. M. Williams and Isom Fender.

THIEVES VISIT HINCHER

On September 25 someone entered the home of Felix Hincer and stole a 38-U. S. pistol. Again on Oct. 17, during the absence of the family thieves visited the home and carried away a 22-Stevens target pistol, presented to Mr. Hincer by a brother-in-law of California. Mr. Hincer valued these articles very highly and hopes to have the guilty parties arrested and punished for the theft.
