

Ford Truck Breaks Speed Record On Cross Country Trip

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 28.—Smashing all previous speed records for motor trucks on a transcontinental trip, a Ford V-8 truck carrying a full two-ton load of merchandise into Los Angeles at 8:13 o'clock last night after crossing the continent in 71 hours, 12 minutes and 24 seconds elapsed time. The run was made under the official observation of Glenn Waide for the Keystone Automobile Club, who accompanied the truck. The truck out-distanced by four hours the fastest regular passenger train service between Atlantic City and Los Angeles. Today Mayor Shaw of Los Angeles, together with city and state officials and representatives of automobile associations received the crew of four drivers who made the run in a typical California civic ceremony. The drivers presented letters of greeting from Mayor Harry Bacharach of Atlantic City and Mayor J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia. The Transcontinental Freightliner was welcomed at the Los Angeles city limits last night with all the spectacular enthusiasm of a Hollywood opening night. Nearly 3,000 people were on hand to greet the transcontinental drivers to California in a blaze of floodlights. Following the termination of the run the truck was checked officially on the Southern California Automobile Club 18 mile check run and the speedometer found accurate to two-tenths of a mile for the thirteen miles. In making the 2,945 mile run the Ford freighter clocked an average of 41.3 miles per hour, which resulted, according to Ford officials from safe driving all the way under police escort and not by dangerous bursts of speed. The transcontinental run required 322 gallons of gasoline and five quarts of oil, the final quart not being used. Only one pint of water was added to the radiator during the entire trip. At the ceremony at the City Hall today, Mayor Shaw welcomed the four drivers, L. C. Houck, Jack Burns, Harold Peterson and Lester Moore to California. The four drove the freighter in relays. With the Mayor were the president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, representatives of the Southern California Automobile Club and other prominent officials. According to the drivers the truck came through the record run in excellent shape, despite bad driving conditions all the way. The truck encountered snow and ice the first night out ran through a heavy rain storm in the Ozarks the second night and yesterday plowed through desert sand and dust two feet deep for more than 12 hours. In addition to its full load of merchandise the Ford freighter carried improvised bunks for the relay drivers and the official observer of the Philadelphia club. It stopped only for gasoline and oil, three hours and 27 minutes being lost in refueling stops, making the net running time across the continent 67 hours, 45 minutes and 30 seconds. The Transcontinental Freightliner is a stock model Ford V-8 one and one-half ton truck.

Oysters Are Good For You

DON'T stick your finger into an oyster shell. You may get it pinched. This is a truth of long standing. In fact it is possible that a prehistoric Pittdown man may have been the first to get his finger caught between the shells, and on sucking it to ease the pain, have discovered how delectable is the flavor of this sea food. At least that was the theory of Dr. H. D. Pease in an article entitled "The Oyster—Modern Science Comes to the Support of an Ancient Food" published last year in the Journal of Chemical Education. Dr. E. J. Coulson states in a new publication of the United States Bureau of Fisheries that oysters contain all the minerals which have been found necessary to maintain and promote normal reproduction and lactation in laboratory animals. In particular he stresses the health value of the oyster stew which is a combination of oysters and milk. Help Anemic People Among the most interesting of comparatively recent discoveries in nutrition, according to this authority, is the fact that minute amounts of the less common mineral elements are of real importance in the diet. As a source of iron and copper, the oyster is comparable only with liver. These metals in the oyster were found to be readily used by laboratory animals for hemoglobin production and should therefore be efficacious in the treatment and prevention of nutritional anemia of all types, which respond to treatment with iron or iron and copper. To insure an adequate supply of the inorganic constituents for hemoglobin production, it would seem desirable to include oysters in the diet of the pernicious anemia patient in conjunction with liver extract which is relatively low in iron. Everyone Can Get Them Fortunately oysters are available everywhere because they are canned in great quantities. Although the output of canned oysters is lower than in past years, there are still enough to go around. While millions of Americans eat oysters solely because they like them, it is encouraging to know about their richness in minerals and other factors which make them such an advantageous addition to the diet. With these facts in mind, you would probably like to have some recipes for the use of this sea delicacy. Everyone knows how to eat them raw—you just swallow them—but did you know, for instance, how well they combine with chicken? Here are some recipes which will prove it to you if you try them. Oysters with Chicken Chicken and Oyster Patties: Make a cream sauce of one and one-half tablespoons butter, one and one-half tablespoons flour, one cup thin cream, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon celery salt and paprika. Add one-fourth cup shredded canned pimiento, the contents of a 5-ounce can of oysters scalded in their own liquor, and two cups of diced chicken. Cook for five minutes. Oyster and Mushroom Crostades: Drain a 5-ounce can of oysters and a 4-ounce can of mushrooms. Make a sauce of two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour and the combined liquors drained from the cans. Season to taste with salt and pepper, add one slightly beaten egg mixed with one-half cup cream, pour over the oysters and mushrooms, and heat in double boiler. Serve as an entree in very tiny crostades or poured over tiny split baking powder biscuits. Oyster and Bacon Roast: Drain a 5-ounce can of oysters, and arrange them in shallow, buttered earthen scallop dishes. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Lay thinly sliced onion on top, sprinkle with Parmesan cheese, and set in hot oven till brown is brown. Serves four. With Mushrooms or Bacon Oyster and Mushroom Crostades: Drain a 5-ounce can of oysters and a 4-ounce can of mushrooms. Make a sauce of two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour and the combined liquors drained from the cans. Season to taste with salt and pepper, add one slightly beaten egg mixed with one-half cup cream, pour over the oysters and mushrooms, and heat in double boiler. Serve as an entree in very tiny crostades or poured over tiny split baking powder biscuits.

Seasonal Buying

THERE is a wider spread in winter between the prices of fresh and canned vegetables than in summer. So why not take advantage of the lower prices of canned foods in comparison to fresh and buy more canned-foods in winter than you do in summer? This offers a seasonal opportunity to economize. One good way to do this is to combine fresh and canned vegetables in the same dish. They go perfectly well together as you will find out if you try one of the following recipes: Mashed Mixed Vegetables: Simmer the contents of an 11-ounce can diced carrots for a few minutes, and drain. Boil five medium potatoes, and drain. Cut three medium onions in dice, boil and drain. Combine the three hot vegetables, mash thoroughly, season with salt, pepper, two tablespoons butter and two or three tablespoons cream, or enough to moisten. Beat fluffy with a fork, and serve hot. Serves eight. An Appetizing Dish Mixed Vegetable Appetizer: Chill separately the contents of an 8-ounce can diced carrots, an 8-ounce can diced celery, and one-third cup diced cucumber; drain off any juice and toss lightly together. Fill small cocktail glasses or cup-shaped lettuce leaves with this mixture. Beat one-half cup cream, add one-half cup chili sauce, one tablespoon mayonnaise, one tablespoon capers and a few grains of salt. Have very cold. Pile this sauce on top of vegetables. Serves eight.

TWO MEET DEATH IN CAR ACCIDENT

Elkin, Nov. 23.—(UP)—Mrs Frank Pinnix, 65, of Brooks Crossroads, was killed instantly tonight and Clarence Allred, Winston-Salem, died in an Elkin hospital an hour later as a result of an automobile collision near Brooks Crossroads in which several others were injured. Littleton Pinnix, Mrs. Dallas Wiles and her two children of Brooks Crossroads and Clyde Henric, Wilkes county, are in the hospital with serious injuries, the extent of which had not been determined tonight. A car occupied by Henric and Allred and said to have contained 75 gallons of whiskey crashed into the Pinnix car at a curve. Both automobiles were demolished.

State Champion 4-H Girl In Line For $400 Scholarship

The chance to win a $400 agricultural college scholarship will be held by the state's 4-H home economics girl. Dorothy G. Lloyd, 17, Bahama, Durham Co., No. Car. when she goes to Chicago late this month to attend the Twelfth National Club Congress in connection with the International Live Stock Exposition, December 1-9. The girl's record will be judged with other state champions by a committee of state club leaders and the scholarship winner announced at a banquet of 1200 club delegates and leaders. The trips to the Windy City and the expenses while there, and the scholarship, are awards in a national home economics contest sponsored by Montgomery Ward and Company, who will be host to the state home queens during their Chicago stay. The state champion girl's record reveals high achievements in various home projects, according to the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work which conducted the contest in cooperation with extension leaders. Comparison of this year's records of state champions with last year's high average reveals even greater achievements. The 1932 state queens averaged six years of club enrollment, 12 projects completed, 75 exhibits made and contests entered, an average gross return per girl well over $400.

YOUR BRAKES MAY GRIP But Will Your Tires?

On the slippery and darker roads of winter, you need the deep-bitting, sure-holding grip of new Goodyears — and you need protection from tire changes in the cold. You can get that protection about as cheaply as a year ago — and still have tires almost like new next Spring because new rubber lasts longer on cool roads. Be wise — invest now in new Goodyears, ride safely, save money. This will be the 18th winter that more people than ever Goodyears than on any other tire. Let us show you why!
