METHODIST MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS FRIDAY

The Ladies' Missionary society of the Methodist church met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. W. Higgins with fifteen members present.

Mrs. J. T. Inskeep, the president, presided and the devotionals were conducted by the Rev. C. W. Russell, who was a very welcome visitor.

The report of the secretary and treasurer were read and approved. She announced that the pledge of $25.00 had been paid and $7.00 had been raised to buy winter clothing for the adopted girl at the orphanage.

The Welfare committee reported $5.00 spent for relief and sixteen visits to the sick during last month.

Mrs. Cloy Wenkler, leader, invited the Rev. Mr. Russell to talk on "Woman's Place in The Church." He made a most interesting talk giving instances in history where women had played an important part in advancing church and religious work.

Mrs. H. T. Smith, of Independence, invited the society to hold the next meeting at her home in connection with that of the Independence Ladies' Aid society.

The members were asked to attend a call meeting at the home of Mrs. C. W. Higgins on February 8 at 1:30 p. m., to discuss plans for an oyster supper to be given in Mrs. George Cheek's tea room, date to be announced later.

After the meeting a social hour was enjoyed, during which the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. H. T. Smith, served delicious refreshments.

Four visitors were present, as follows: Mrs. Frank Shannon, Mrs. C. A. Doughton, Mrs. Earl Wagoner and Mrs. Smith.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

Club Members Will Try For Big Awards

North Carolina 4-H Club members will have the opportunity this year to compete for one of the two $1000 fellowships awarded by the Payne fund in New York city, L. R. Harrill, leader of 4-H Clubs in the State, announces.

The two scholarships, one for a boy and the other for a girl, will provide for nine months' residence in Washington and study at the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The qualifications required of candidates are: A college degree in agriculture or home economics, four years' participation in 4-H Club work, a definite interest in agricultural or home economic extension work, being under 25 years of age, and preferably one or more years' experience after graduation from college.

Each state has the privilege of nominating one young man and one young woman, but no one region into which the United States is divided for extension service shall be awarded both fellowships in one year.

Prior to March 1, 1934, the state director of extension will file the nominations from his state with the Payne fund headquarters. The director of extension and the state 4-H Club leader must certify to the eligibility of each candidate.

Application blanks may be obtained from L. R. Harrill, 4-H Club leader at State College, or from the Payne Fund, 1 Madison Avenue, New York City.

President Desires Projects Of CWA Completed May 1

System For Investigation Of Graft Attempts Installed By PWA Organization In Washington, D. C.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The administration hopes that the workers of the civil works administration can stack up their shovels and go into private industry before May 1.

This expiration date was fixed definitely today by Harry L. Hopkins, director of the agency, as he emerged from a conference with President Roosevelt. There was attached to the deadline date, however, a reservation that if private industry could not find jobs for a good share of the 4,000,000 workers by that time, Mr. Roosevelt would consider the question of extending the life of the agency.

Shortly before Hopkins entered the executive office, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, left Mr. Roosevelt's work room expressing a belief that "everything will work out all right."

Mr. Roosevelt planned to send to Capitol Hill tomorrow a budgetary request for a $350,000,000 appropriation for the civil works administration, an amount he estimated would be sufficient to carry its efforts to May 1.

Meanwhile, reports sprang up that efforts might be made to raise the appropriation to $2,000,000,000 and continue the work for another year. Some house members were reported to be contemplating such an effort.

The administration was predicting its action to end the civil works by early spring on the belief that at least three of the four million workers would find jobs elsewhere by then, either in private work or in the public works administration projects that are expected to be well under way with the passing of freezing weather.

It was pointed out elsewhere that a pickup in employment by May might be the result of either of two factors, a natural upswing resulting from an increased demand for goods or an increase of the number of workers in private industry by virtue of legislation.

While the administration was planning for the closing months of the civil works administration, it also was concerned with another and more spectacular matter—ferreting out graft within the organization.

Investigators for the interior department were pushing inquiries into a dozen cases about the country after having run down scores of other allegations. Also

Mary Pickford On Air; New Hollywood Series

Baby Le Roy and Mary Pickford; insets; police scene in kidnapping drama.

When Mary Pickford goes on the air January 27 in the first show of a new radio series at 8 p. m. Eastern Standard Time over a Columbia-WABC network, she will be more than ever, "America's Sweetheart," for she will be the guest speaker on a program dedicated to destroying the kidnappink racket in America. A new Paramount moving picture, "Miss Fane's Baby is Stolen," featuring Baby LeRoy, Alice Brady and Dorothea Wieck, will be "previewed" over the air to demonstrate the dynamic power of police operation in a relentless search for a victim of "snatchers."

The picture is the first to be "previewed" by the radio audience before it is shown in any movie house. Four major Hollywood producers are cooperating to present an altogether new idea in radio, "Forty-five Minutes in Hollywood," reproducing over the air each week the high spots of forthcoming feature pictures. Cal York, veteran Hollywood reporter, will take the microphone behind the scenes for intimate dramatizations of incidents in the personal lives of movie stars.

impressed into the hunt was the department of justice. The investigators for the civil works administration said today they had investigated a great many complaints which led them to mere disgruntled politicians on both sides of the political fence—instances of the wrong political faith, according to the views of the complainants.

The public works administrator, Secretary Ickes, disclosed his organization to date had been harassed with no graft complaints, but said he foresaw a chance that it might come when the public works program reached the construction phase. "Where we will have to be on our guard," Ickes said, "is after construction begins. We'll have to watch out for skipping of contracts, the putting in of poor material and so forth."

In putting down the ground-

STATE COLLEGE NAMES OHIO GRADUATE AS SOILS EXPERT

Raleigh, Jan. 23.—Dr. Clinton B. Clevenger, graduate in soils at Ohio State university, has been added to the staff of North Carolina State college, succeeding the late Dr. William Battle Cobb, professor in soils. Dr. Clevenger, who received his doctor's degree at the University of Wisconsin, was a fellow at the North Carolina experiment station during 1933 until Dr. Cobb's death. He has held posts at the University of Wisconsin, with the Illinois experimental station, with the federal government and in Central America.

U. S. NAVAL PLANES SET NEW RECORD

The recent massed flight of six United States Navy patrol sea planes from San Francisco to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, 2,408 statute miles, set a new record for overwater formation flying. Previously, the same squadron flew 2,059 miles from Norfolk to Coco Solo, Canal Zone.

The longest flight of the Italian squadron, under General Balbo, was from West Africa to Brazil, a distance of 1,864 miles.

Just how far should we travel to have our eyes examined?

The King of Siam travelled twelve thousand miles to an American city for such service.

And we say—what of it, why such distance? Answer it to your liking, but remember this—He was and still is, King of Siam.

NOT HOW MUCH DID YOU SPEND
but
HOW MUCH DID YOU GET

● Don't measure your bargains by what you spend for them. It's what you get that counts.

To appreciate the return on the dollar you spend for electricity, itemize your monthly electric bill in this way:

- 1 MONTH'S LIGHTING . . . 1 MONTH'S WASHING
- 1 MONTH'S IRONING . . . 1 MONTH'S CLEANING
- 1 MONTH'S TOASTING . . . 1 MONTH'S RADIO ENTERTAINMENT . . . 1 MONTH'S REFRIGERATION

Actually, your monthly electric bill is a monthly payroll—money you have paid to mechanical servants for cooking, laundering, refrigeration, and a host of other domestic services. No other expenditure gives you as much for your money as the wages you pay electric servants.
