Voters Approve New Deal Tues. In Elections

Roosevelt Expresses Joy When Informed Of Situation By Farley. Merriam Wins In Calif.

New York, Nov. 6.—"The new deal has been magnificently sustained," said National Democratic Chairman James A. Farley in commenting on the results of today's election, which has been pointed to during the campaign as a clear-cut test of the present strength and popularity of President Roosevelt's administration policies. In the election today Democrats solidified their control over the national Congress. While Democratic leaders quickly interpreted the decisive victory as a vote of confidence in the new deal, Republican chiefs were just as quick to deny that the new deal was the leading issue except in fewer than six states. Incomplete nation-wide returns showed few upsets had taken place. The situation at 10:15 p. m., was: Sherman Minton, Democrat, was leading Senator Arthur Robinson, Republican, in the Indiana senatorial contest. Victor Donahey, Democrat, was leading Senator Simeon D. Fess, Republican, in Ohio. In New Mexico, Dennis Chavez led Senator Bronson Cutting, progressive Republican. Senator Roscoe Patterson, Republican, was trailing Harry Truman, Democrat, in the Missouri senatorial race. Governor A. Harry Moore, Democrat, enjoyed a slight lead over Senator Hamilton Kean in New Jersey. Edward Burke, Democrat, led Robert Simmons, Republican, in the Nebraska battle for the United States Senate. Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., progressive Republican of Wisconsin, led the field in the Wisconsin senatorial contest. In West Virginia, Senator Henry D. Hatfield, Republican, trailed Rush Holt, youthful Democrat. Farley informed President Roosevelt of this situation and the Chief Executive said he was "overjoyed." Joseph F. Duffy, Democrat, was leading Senator David A. Reed, Republican stalwart, in Pennsylvania.

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—Governor Frank Finley Merriam, Republican, on whom conservatives pinned their hopes in defeating Upton Sinclair for governor of California, held a precarious lead in the early returns tonight. The count stood: Merriam, 189,535, Sinclair, 168,481, and Haight, 42,156. Sinclair was clinging to Merriam's heels in Los Angeles county, where nearly a third of the state's registration is enrolled.

Harry L. Hopkins, Relief Administrator, is known to favor some method of regular work for the unemployed, so that a man will do constructive work for what he gets. During the week ending October 11th, he had 1,387,119 persons so employed, earning an average of about ten dollars a week. However, during September, he estimated that 16,649,072 individuals were being supported wholly or in part by relief funds.

Royalls Hold Reunion Sunday

The ancient Thomas Royall home place, near Roaring Gap was the scene Sunday of a family reunion and home-coming event which drew a great throng of the family connection and friends. A sermon by the Rev. Mr. Miles was the initial feature of the morning program which held the congregation in rapt attention. Afterward Dr. Miles A. Royall, of Elkin, chief speaker of the occasion gave a stirring address in which was reviewed the genealogy of this sturdy family, who came over to American soil from England in the early ages to seek relief from persecution, and enjoy the liberty for which America has long been famous. Dr. Royall gave extracts of family history gleaned some time ago in an interview with Dr. Royal C. Copeland, a connection of the clan, while he was on a visit to Raleigh. He reviewed the splendid characteristics of this branch of the family, whose pioneer ancestors chose to settle in the remoteness of the mountains and whose descendants have continued to cling to the more secluded hills. A basket dinner, served from a long table, in the grove, was enjoyed. The reunion will be continued as an annual event, and will be held a year hence at Center church in Yadkin county.

URGENT NEW DIRIGIBLES

The National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics has approved plans for dirigible mail and passenger service to Europe and South America, and definite recommendations will be made by the Commerce Department in the near future. It is understood that two great American Zeppelins would be constructed for trans-Atlantic service, and a smaller one for the South American line. Incidentally, this announcement followed testimony by Dr. Hugo Eckener, German's foremost expert, before the special com-

"WITH BYRD AT THE SOUTH POLE" IS DISCONTINUED

Due to withdrawal of support by sponsors of the organization which has been furnishing to newspapers the feature, "With Byrd At The South Pole," these feature articles have been discontinued and will not appear in future issues of the TIMES.

We regret very much that it has become necessary to discontinue publication of this highly interesting feature, depicting the "ups and downs" of Byrd and his men in Antarctica, because considerable interest has been shown in this series by readers.

Large Amount Of Stock Sold Mon. At Galax

Sale Begins At Noon And Lasts Until 7:30 O'clock Before Selling Is Completed. Prices Good

Monday saw the largest sale of livestock at Galax held there yet by the Grayson-Carroll market. The auction, beginning at noon, lasted until 7:30 o'clock, being the longest sale held since the market was organized five months ago. While all classes of cattle and hogs reached the season's low price on the eastern and western markets last week, prices received on the Galax market Monday were considered good. Consignment has already been made of a carload of Tennessee mules for the sale to be held next Monday, November 12. These are said to be good, young mules of the kind that should meet a ready sale on the Galax market. Sale of these will start promptly at noon.

Two carloads of pigs, ranging in weight from 20 to 160 pounds each, have also been consigned for next Monday's sale and should arrive at Galax on Friday or Saturday of this week. Three carloads of pigs were sold directly to Eastern North Carolina dealers last week by the Galax market.

Piney Creek "H" Grades Active

The October honor roll for the Fourth and Fifth B grades of Piney Creek high school, Edna M. Warden, teacher, is as follows: June Cox, Hazel Billings, Sidney Sturgill, Wade Hoppers, Mary Lee Weaver, Howard Brown, Burten Landreth, Opal Wyatt, Jesse Cox, Billy Woodie and Sam Osborne.

The class desires to extend a welcome to a new member, Virginia Lou Weaver, Edgewood, Md. The Wide-Awake Health club of the Piney Creek school has recently chosen officers as follows: June Cox and Betty Mae Wagoner, nurses, and Howard Brown, doctor. An almost daily inspection by the nurses reminds the pupils and teacher to watch for unclean hands and nails. It also reminds all the pupils to brush their teeth.

For the past month the class has been working on a study of Indian life, and at the present the life of the Pilgrim is being studied. The furnishing of the "log cabin" was finished last Friday. For the "logs" notched cornstalks were used, and the cracks were filled with mud.

Parents and friends are invited to visit the classroom at any convenient time and see what is being done.

Roosevelt Gets Returns At Home

Hyde Park, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Seated before an open fireplace, President Roosevelt was kept informed tonight by wire and telephone of election developments over the national political front. Interest of summer White House attaches seemed centered in two states, Pennsylvania and California. In the former Joseph Guffey, Democratic leader, was fighting to wrest from David Reed the United States senatorship, while on the coast Upton Sinclair was striving to win with his EPIC plan against a strong Republican alignment in a contest for the governorship. The President, who with members of his family and close friends went to the polls this morning, declined, however to comment on the election.

Victors In Election Tuesday

Left: Congressman Robert L. Doughton, of Alleghany county, Chairman of the powerful U. S. House of Representatives Ways and Means committee, who was reelected Tuesday as the Ninth district representative over his Republican opponent, Joseph M. Pevette, Jefferson. Right: Dalton Warren, Sparta, who was elected State Senator Tuesday over his Republican opponent, George Cheek, also of Sparta.

Educator Dies In Charlotte

Charlotte, Nov. 6.—Dr. Alexander Graham, outstanding figure in the history of education in North Carolina, and father of Dr. Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina, died at his home here Friday.

Unable to recover from a heart attack suffered earlier in the week, the 90-year old educator lost his fight for life after a restless night. Dr. Graham was known as the "father" of Charlotte school system, having served as superintendent during the 25 years from 1888 to 1913.

Born at Fayetteville, he received early education there, and became a professor at 16 years of age. From then until the Civil War he inter-mingled learning and teaching. Dr. Graham's war experience lasted less than a year, and he

Sen. Reynolds Praises Mexicans

Washington, Nov. 6.—Senator Robert R. Reynolds returned to Washington this week from a ten-day visit to Mexico and in an interview with newspapermen the junior North Carolina senator sung the praises of our neighbor republic to the South.

Senator Reynolds paid a high tribute to Ambassador Josephus Daniels and said he was confident the good work of his fellow North Carolinian in Mexico would improve the relationship between the two countries. The senator stayed at the American embassy while in Mexico and described Mrs. Daniels as a "perfect hostess."

"From the moment I landed in Vera Cruz to the time of my departure from that city of interesting history," Senator Reynolds said, "I found myself in touch with a civilization older than any we know in North America."

MORE PIE

Raleigh will be headquarters for about 15 counties in taking the middecennial agricultural census and approximately 204 enumerators will get on the federal payroll in this district. The appointments are due about November 15 and with about 100 jobs to be dispensed in the Fourth District, Congressman Harold D. Cooley and Senator Josiah Bailey will doubtless be busy juggling applications with a view to future campaigns. Get yours in early, boys.

SAY HE'S OUT

Friends and fellow-townsmen of former Lieutenant Governor Richard T. Fountain, of Rocky Mount and unsuccessful opponent of Governor Ehringhaus in the primaries of 1932, will tell you positively that he is not entertaining any idea of seeking to acquire Senator Bailey's toga in 1936. However, Mr. Fountain might be a great help to some other easterner desiring to sit in the "most august body in the world," if you get what we mean.

KILLING JOB

Members of the State Highway and Public Works Commission have asked the Budget Commission to provide for an assistant chairman. They attribute the collapse of Chairman E. B. Jeffress' health to over work. Hearing all the delegations that come to Raleigh on road matters and supervising the vast highway and prison organizations is something more than a bowl of cherries.

MYSTERY MAN

"Party regularity" Democrats wonder what kind of a rabbit's foot W. F. Evans, rabid Hoovercrat and mortal enemy of Senator Bailey, carries to Washington with him. Despite the fact that the Senator had Mr. Evans kicked off the 1935 Federal payroll last Christmas this unsuccessful candidate for the Fourth District seat in Congress has landed again and this time it's a $5,000-a-year job with the HOLC. How he does it in the face of opposition of both

Tar Heel Senators has the boys guessing.

IDLE CONVICTS

Because the last Legislature diverted a million dollars from the highway fund and ham-strung the Highway and Public Works Commission on expenditures, hundreds of convicts have eaten the taxpayers' bread and done nothing but twiddle their thumbs in return. It has been necessary to use federal aid road money on secondary roads and convicts cannot be used on projects supported by Uncle Sam's cash. Adequate appropriations and abandonment of diversion would mean that all convicts available could be worked on the secondary roads and federal aid money used on the primary system. Otherwise, Mr. Farmer, you will just have to put up with roads going to rack and ruin.

NO LET-UP

Don't get the idea that just because October general fund collections were below September that the State Revenue Department has gone to sleep in its drive for taxes. Revenue Commissioner A. J. Maxwell, and his Executive Assistant Dr. M. C. S. Noble and their aides are still playing boogie-man to a lot of folks with back taxes. Warrants continue to be issued but the big results came in July, August and September. From now on the department may not produce such spectacular results but the flow of gold into State coffers is expected to be steady with arrest threatening those who seek to avoid payments.

NEW INTEREST

With the election now so much water run over the dam, political interest in the Capital City and in many sections of the State now turns to the race for Speaker of the 1935 House of Representatives. Here's the latest dope from the candidates themselves. Robert Grady Johnson, of Pender, is letting it

Supreme Court Upholds NRA Price-Fixing

Opinion Is Hailed By Many As An Assurance Of Judicial Support For Major New Deal Policies

Washington, Nov. 6.—In an opinion handed down yesterday by the United States Supreme court, fixing of prices as a part of recovery legislation was upheld. The opinion swept aside as untenable many of the arguments leveled against this form of governmental control of industry. Coming at the start of a session which is expected to bring many recovery policies under the scrutiny of the court, the opinion was hailed by many as an assurance of judicial support for major new deal policies. The court ruled that the fixing of minimum prices by the New York State Milk Control Board could not be assailed even though it was found that under them some companies could not earn a fair return on their investment. The company had been attacked by the Hegeman Farms Corporation, wholesalers of grade B milk. The company charged that the spread between the price it must pay producers for milk and the price for which it could sell it did not give it a profit sufficient to pay a fair return on its investment. The company argued it was as much entitled to a fair return as utility companies which, the courts have held, must be allowed a rate assuring them a specified return on their capital. Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo, writing the court's opinion, held that "the analogy when scrutinized, is seen to be unreal. A public utility in such circumstances, has no outlet of escape. It is running its business with reasonable economy, it must break the law or bleed to death." The court also gave the government an opportunity to participate in argument on the validity of the gold clause in public and private bonds which is scheduled for early in the term. It will furnish the first test of new deal monetary policies.

Congressman Robert L. Doughton was reelected Tuesday to serve the Ninth North Carolina Congressional district for another term over his Republican opponent, Joseph M. Pevette, of Jefferson, by an overwhelming majority, carrying his home county of Alleghany by a two to one vote, which is a greater percent of the total vote cast than has been the case at any previous election in the county. Congressman Doughton carried every county in the district. Unofficial returns show that the vote in the Congressional race in Alleghany county was as follows: Doughton, 1,470, and Pevette, 778.

Dalton Warren, Sparta, carried all three counties in the district in the race for State Senator, winning the election over his Republican opponent, George Cheek, also of Sparta, by a majority estimated at 1,800. He received 1,367 votes in Alleghany county against 812 for Mr. Cheek. All county candidates received a good vote, although they had no opposition. County officers were elected as follows: Clerk of Superior Court, A. F. Reeves; Sheriff, Walter M. Irwin; County Commissioner, John C. Gambill; House of Representatives, Wiley P. Warden; Register of Deeds, V. W. Reeves; County Coroner, Mack Roberts, and County Surveyor, J. C. Sparks.

Allen H. Gwyn, Reidsville, who was without opposition for Solicitor of the eleventh judicial district of North Carolina, received a good complimentary vote in Alleghany county. The election went off quietly in Alleghany, due to the fact that the Republicans had no county ticket. Interest in the election was not as great as it would have been if there had been a contest for the county offices. However, compared with the vote in the other counties where there were hot contests, the Alleghany county vote showed a good interest.

The election was conducted very quietly and was operated more smoothly and efficiently than any other election on record in this county, for which, it is said, A. C. McMillan, registrar, deserves much credit. A total of 717 persons came to the polls here to cast their votes, and more than 100 voted by absentee ballot.

Legion Heads Take Office

Lexington, Nov. 2.—Hubert E. Olive was installed as state commander of the American Legion state department here tonight, when Captain Tom C. Daniels handed over the reins of office in a sparkling ceremony at the high school auditorium. At the same time Mrs. W. R. Absher, of North Wilkesboro, graciously surrendered to Mrs. Merline H. Shumway the state presidency of the Legion Auxilliary.

A spectacular parade of musical units from a half-dozen nearby cities, including the Winston-Salem Legion Band with local floats and marching groups preceded a barbecue and the formal installation.

JUDGE HAYES TO OPEN FEDERAL COURT NOV. 19

North Wilkesboro, Nov. 6.—November term of middle district federal court for cases originating in Alleghany, Ashe, Watauga and Wilkes counties will convene in Wilkesboro on Monday, November 19, with Judge Johnson J. Hayes presiding. The term will extend into the second week. The first four days of court will be devoted to trial of criminal cases and the remainder of the term will be taken up with a number of civil actions.

LEGION OPENS BIG MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 6.—A drive for the largest membership in the history of the American Legion, to lead an extensive fight against all "isms" except Americanism, was opened here by Frank N. Belgrano, San Francisco, Calif.

Federal Workers Hit New Deal

Washington, Nov. 6.—The National Federation of Federal Employees charged today that the new deal had brought a "wholesale return to the spoils system." The federation claimed that civil service laws had been consistently disregarded by the Roosevelt administration and cited an executive order by the President in connection with consolidation of the executive council and national emergency council allowing hiring of employees without regard to civic service.
