GARBO LATHERED FACES IN A BARBER SHOP

IF YOU had walked into a certain Stockholm barber shop 'way back in 1920, you would have seen wistful little Greta Garbo working up a lather and preparing hot towels for stubby faces as she assisted the local barber. Later, in Bergstrom's department store, you might have taken a second look at the pretty little clerk who sold you a hat. But if someone had told you she would one day be world famous in pictures for her portrayals of romance, passion and ecstasy, it would have seemed too fantastic to believe.

Greta Garbo was born in 1905 in the mill district of Stockholm. Her father was a poor machinist, and her mother an uneducated farm woman. The mysterious airs and aloofness of the great Garbo of today are natural, for they were traits of the sensitive little daughter of this poor family. Her father died Rhubarb Charlotte—Wash stew rhubarb but not to break point. Fill dish alternately with rhubarb and sponge cake and cover with lemon jelly. Leave to set and serve with whipped cream.

Eggs and Mushrooms—Put ounces of fresh butter into a saucepan; break over it 4 fresh eggs and add 3 spoonfuls chop mushrooms, ½ teaspoonful salt, spoonful ground white pepper. Stir the mixture with a wooden spoon over a clear fire until of thickish consistency, and serve very hot on buttered toast.

Laundry Hint—Transfer material left after a piece of embroidery is completed may be taken before the article is squeezed through in warm water by being gently with a piece of wool moistened with methyl spirit.

When Dressmaking—Keep bottle of eucalyptus oil handy; it removes grease and mangle oil from any fabric.

Picnic Steaks—Mince finely pound tender steak, add ½ teaspoonful finely-chopped onion, tablespoonful breadcrumbs, beaten egg, ½ teaspoonful salt, ¼ teaspoonful pepper. Knead ingredients well together, shape into rounds about 1 inch thick place on a greased baking pan with dabs of margarine on top and bake in a moderate oven about 20 minutes. When cooked wrap each in a lettuce leaf pack in carton.

For Boiled Ham—When boiling ham add a small teaspoonful of sugar and a few cloves to the water. This will improve the flavor. If the ham is allowed to cook in the water in which it was boiled it will be moist and sweet.

Mother's Loving Heart

WHAT memories we have of faithful hearts, Who thought "the world was lost," and gave the best; Who saw the hidden virtues of each child, Whose love was comfort, peace and perfect rest. Dear mothers of the world, a part of today, Your path in life may seem a humble part, But ask each man to choose life's purest gift, I know he'll say—"A mother's loving heart."

—Omar Randa

Ma!

I got my name in the paper

Only Newspapers bring news of vital interest to you

Headlines may scream of death, disaster without causing you to raise an eyebrow. But if your son gets his name in the paper—that's real news!

It isn't by accident that this paper prints so many stories which vitally interest you and your neighbors. News of remote places is stated briefly, interpreted. Local news is covered fully because all good editors know that news which interests the readers is news about themselves.

Now is a good time to learn more about this newspaper which is especially for you. Just for fun, yourself, this question: How could you get along without newspapers?

Trick

"Com-pa-nee, atten-shun!" bawled the drill sergeant to the awkward squad. "Com-pa-nee, lift up your left leg and hold it straight in front of you!"

By mistake, one rookie held up his right leg, which brought it out side by side with his neighbor's left leg.

"Aw' right, aw' right; who's the wise guy over there holding up both legs?" shouted the hard-boiled sergeant.—The Watchward.

Various Effects

"Do you think music is calculated to soothe the insane?"

"In some cases," replied Miss Cayenne. "Whether music soothes or promotes mental disturbance depends entirely on the kind of music."

BEDFELLOWS

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

when she was fourteen and she went to work in the department store to help support her penniless mother, her small brother and sister. The manager of the millinery department chose her to model hats and, through publication of photographs made then, she was given a chance in motion pictures. Her rise to fame was rapid, and the little lather girl of Stockholm became the greatest example of movie publicity.

One of her very first pictures was awarded the Nobel prize, and she received the medal of the New York Film Critics for her performance in "Anna Karenina." Men fought duels over her, and famous directors, writers and actors have sought her favor. So, think twice before you laugh at that neighbor's child with the theatrical ambitions. The great Garbo was once a lather girl

MOTOR BOAT KING WAS A CATTLE HERDER

SOMETIMES I think we place too much emphasis on the stigma of failure. A man may fail at one thing after another that he attempts, but he is never a failure himself until he quits. Many a fortune has been built upon past mistakes. Gar Wood's father had a viewpoint something like that, and he instilled into his children the belief that even though they failed in an endeavor, they had fun in trying it.

Gar Wood was born in Mapleton, Iowa, in 1872, one of 13 children. All of the children had to earn money early to help make expenses, and Gar had little formal schooling. When only a boy, Gar worked as a cattle herder for one dollar a day. He loved boats and enjoyed constructing mechanically run models from clock parts. At the age of thirteen, his unusual knowledge of boats run by motors got him a job in Duluth on one of the first gasoline craft to dock there. As automobiles became popular, Gar Wood was hired to sell them.

He obtained one odd job after another. He was a teacher of electricity and gasoline motors in a night class. He ran a garage for awhile in St. Paul. One thing after another he tried, and failed to advance. A less philosophical man, a less courageous man might have become stagnant. But not Gar Wood. His mind was ever alert to new opportunities in mechanics. Then he perfected a hydraulic hoist for trucks, risked the family's savings in constructing a model, and became wealthy almost overnight.

Suppose this man had been as utterly stricken with shame as some of us think we might be, when he failed in his first attempts to make a successful living. He probably never would have had the courage to risk all the money he had saved for the model of an invention others told him was impractical.
